GARAGE RACKET FACES SWANSON CLEANUP MOVE

Takes Big Slice of Crime Toll.

Once upon a time all garage owners were honest, happy, and prosperous and then along came David F. Ablin and later Thomas C. Sullivan. Now the garage owners are No. 1 on a list being prepared yesterday for State Attorney Elect John A. Swanson, headed "RACKETEERS."

Judge Swanson's pledge to end racketeering in Cook county was held to be one of the most important promises made by him when he was elected. He has been elected on the basis of his promise to clean up the racketeering in Cook county. He has been elected on the basis of his promise to clean up the racketeering in Cook county. He has been elected on the basis of his promise to clean up the racketeering in Cook county.

A Santa for Each Crook.

Attorney Walter G. Walker for the Employers' association, formerly an assistant state's attorney, has the racket records for submission to State's Attorney Swanson. He has not, however, the statistics on the "take" of the various corrupt syndicates which led to the common usage of the term "police-crime alliance."

"But we have found that every crook has his political Santa Claus when he gets in a jam," Attorney Walker said.

The Garage Racket.

But the Employers' association is interested (except as to individual members being interested as citizens) in the vice, booze and gambling racket, as its report begins with an explanation of the garage racket, starting back when the garage owners were independent and prosperous.

"Ablin and a few underlings had the grand idea," the association says. "The Midwest Garage Owners' association was formed."

Recorded as "Insurance."

The garage owners soon came to the opinion that joining Ablin's organization was a cheap form of insurance against trouble. They paid $1 per year per car space to Ablin. In addition, the garage owners had to place their insurance business through Ablin, a considerable source of revenue.

"The first thing a new member would have to do was to raise his money. Through a system of fines and commissions a considerable portion of the increase went to Ablin, who made political connections and hired Attorney Joseph F. Savage as counsel for the organization."

PAIR IGNORE TWO MINUTE SILENCE; NEARLY LYNCHED

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Nov. 12.—Crowds were still passing the cenotaph, paying homage to the war dead of Great Britain, at the early hours this morning, despite a pouring rain.

An incident occurred at Shepherd's Bush, a suburb of London, in which a man and woman were nearly torn to pieces by a furious mob for refusing to observe the two minutes of silence.

Village President Weds, So Fire Whistle Blows

Harbor Springs, Mich., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Allen C. Angell, president of this village, left for Chicago a few days ago. At midnight last night the fire whistle roused every one out of bed to learn that Mr. Angell had returned from Chicago with a bride, having married Miss Lorraine Madison of 5206 Berenice avenue of that city.

Convict Slain But Still Alive, Weird Report

A man who was shot and killed in June, 1927, in an attempted break from the Joliet jail and buried in the belief that he was Gregorio Rizzo, convicted murderer, was in fact a substitute for Rizzo, it was asserted early today by the South Chicago police.

To corroborate the assertion they pointed to a cell in which was locked the real Gregorio Rizzo. They had compared pictures and finger prints at the bureau of identification with those of the prisoner and found, they said, that he was the identical man.

ARKANSAS U. WILL IGNORE MONKEY LAW

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The medical department of the University of Arkansas, located here, will ignore the recently enacted anti-evolution law.

This was announced tonight by Dr. Frank Vinson, dean of the institution. He said that compliance with the measure would wreck the school. "We shall pay no attention to the law," Dr. Vinson said. "I do not anticipate any trouble. I feel that no attempt will be made to enforce the measure."

KILLED AS CAR GOES IN DITCH; LAWYER INJURED

Friends Near Scene of Fatal Mishap.

State Representative Thomas Curran, a power in local and state politics, was killed and Attorney Rocco De Stefano, was severely injured yesterday when Curran's automobile was wrecked on a curve in the highway seven miles west of Kenosha.

Curran was driving his automobile east on Wisconsin highway 43 and attempted to negotiate a sharp turn south on highway 41. The car slid into the ditch, ploughed 100 feet along the roadside and smashed into a tree. Curran's head was crushed and Attorney De Stefano sustained a possible skull fracture and internal injuries.

Ald. Sloan, a Friend, Near at Hand.

Close behind Curran's car was one occupied by Ald. Frank A. Sloan of the Twenty-sixth ward. Ald. Sloan said it was a coincidence that he was there. He was a close friend of Curran.

The alderman drew his car up beside the wreck. While he was lifting Attorney De Stefano from the Curran automobile, Dr. C. R. Steinfeld, 4655 South Michigan avenue, came along in his machine. He was also a friend of the legislator. He pronounced Curran dead. The lawyer was taken to St. Catharine's hospital in Kenosha.

Curran's Body Was Taken to Kenosha.

Curran's body was taken to Kenosha and his wife, Margaret Curran, who was taking the mud baths at Waukesha, was notified. She was taken over to Kenosha by Anton J. Cernak, president of the Cook county board, who also happened to be in Waukesha. Mrs. Curran collapsed when she learned that her husband was dead.

Returning to Sign Pay Rolls.

Curran had visited his wife in Waukesha and then had headed for Chicago, via Kenosha. He was in a hurry to get back to the city. His presence here was said to have been in order that the pay roll of the west park board might be signed. For two years he has been dispenser of the small pension in the park system.

In Assembly 22 Years.

He was first elected to the state legislature from the Fifth district 22 years ago and had served continuously since then. He became known as one of Gov. Small's warmest supporters and when the latter took office Curran was rewarded. He became chairman of the appropriations committee of the lower house. He was made superintendent of the west park system. He was a Republican committeeman in his ward.

Bomb at His Headquarters.

Ten days ago a bomb partly wrecked Curran's headquarters at 1833 South Ashland avenue. The Curran home is only a few doors away at 1847 South Ashland. Curran could give no clue to the police concerning the bombing.

In addition to the widow, Curran leaves his father, three brothers, six sons and three daughters. The father, Daniel Curran, 85 years old, is on the pay roll in the office of President Cernak, of the county board. His brothers are George, a brigadier; William H., state factory inspector; and Daniel, bailiff in the Municipal court. His sons are Municipal Judge George Curran, James Curran, superintendent of the Bridgeview, Walter, Raymond, Harry, and Thomas. The daughters are Mrs. Mary Healey, Mrs. Laura Fitzmaurice, and Mrs. Ellen Cahill.

Curran Liked to be Known as "rough and ready" in manner and speech.

Curran liked to be known as "rough and ready" in manner and speech. He was wont to say that he won his way by work and education in the school of hard knocks. He was of stocky build, blunt of speech.

Attorney De Stefano is 56 years old. He was the first Italian lawyer to be elected to the Illinois bar. (Continued on page 4, column 1.)

RADIO FLASHES DRAMA OF SEA AS VESTRIS FOUNDERS

New York, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—First news of the disaster to the Vestris was received in the following message to the Radio Corporation of America:

"S. S. Vestris, Lamport & Holt line, latitude 37:35 north, longitude 71:03 west. Require immediate assistance." Subsequent messages, relating the difficult position of the ship and appealing desperately for assistance, came as follows:

10:23—"The S. S. Vestris in distress."

10:45—"Rush at all speed to our aid immediately."

10:52—"Last night developed 33 degree list; starboard decks under water. Ship lying on beam ends. Impossible to proceed anywhere. Sea moderately rough."

11:00—The Vestris asked the Ohio Maru to come to her with all speed and the Ohio Maru replied: "Coming there right away. Expect to get there at 5 p. m."

11:30—"O, please come at once. We need immediate attention."

11:44 (To S. S. Creole)—"Please stand by us. We will have to take to life boats any moment now."

11:55 (To Ohio Maru)—"We may have to take to the life boats at any minute."

11:57—"Rush help. Ship sinking slowly."

11:59—The Santa Barbara reported that she was 140 miles from the Vestris and proceeding to her at 17 knots, expecting to reach the sinking vessel at about 10 p. m. About the same time it was reported that the destroyer Davis had left the Brooklyn navy yard and expected to reach the Vestris at 10 p. m.

11:40—"It's the devil to work with this list—getting life boats out now."

11:45—The S. S. Berlin reported that she would reach the Vestris at 10 p. m.

12:08—The American Shipper reported she was 120 miles from the Vestris and proceeding to her aid at full speed.

12:30—"We will soon have to abandon ship."

12:42—The Vestris reported that her power was off and that she would have to use her emergency set.

1:07—The U. S. S. Wyoming reported that she would reach the Vestris at 9 p. m.

1:17—"Can't wait any longer. Going to abandon."

1:22—"Now going to lifeboats."

1:25—(Last message sent from the ship)—"We are abandoning ship. We are taking to the lifeboats."

1:37 p. m.—The last message from the Vestris: "Good-by WSC." (Those are the call letters of the Radio Corporation of America station at Tucker, N. J.)

6:20 p. m.—From Japanese steamer Ohio Maru: "Expected reach Vestris about 4:30 p. m., but not sighted her yet."

6:32 p. m.—From Santa Barbara: "Now in vicinity of wreck, stopped with searchlight working but no sign wreck or boats. Will keep cruising around."

6:37 p. m.—From steamer San Juan: "Reached position broadcast by Vestris at 5:30 p. m. Cruising in vicinity since then, but not sighted her yet."

EIGHT DROWNED AS BOAT UPSETS IN HEAVY SEA

Cape Charles, Va., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Eight men, comprising the captain and crew of the fishing boat Maude of Willis Wharf, Va., twenty miles north of here, were drowned shortly before noon today when the heavily laden craft was swamped in a heavy sea while crossing Hog Island inlet. The boat was the property of Ballard Brothers Fish company.

Coast guardsmen late today found the submerged craft with boy up, but none of the bodies was recovered.

Five Lifeboats Picked Up

Another message from the American Shipper was the next to be received. It went on the air shortly after five o'clock and said: "About five miles north of position where found first life boat. Approaching four other life boats now."

And then, at 5:40 the American Shipper summed up what she and the Myriam had accomplished in a report to the battleship Wyoming, which said that between the two they had accounted for five life boats and one raft. The survivors in three of the life boats were taken aboard the American Shipper, while the Myriam cared for the rest.

DRUG STORES

During 1927 Chicago drug stores placed nearly half their advertising in the Tribune. And national drug stores articles and cosmetic manufacturers placed 44.6% of their advertising in the Tribune. They know that a circulation of 841,000 daily and 1,192,000 on Sundays reached the full buying power of Chicago. Let the Tribune's supreme circulation build sales for you!

VESTRIS RAFT AND 1 LIFEBOAT STILL MISSING

Survivors Picked Up After Long Hunt.

BULLETIN.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—(P.)—Naval communications announced the receipt of a message from the American Shipper saying that only one of the Vestris' life boats and one raft had yet to be found. The message said merely: "One boat and one raft still missing."

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 13.—(P.)—One by one the gale tossed life boats of the abandoned steamship Vestris were being picked up early today and their human cargo, after a night spent on a stormy, murky Atlantic, was finding refuge on board the vessels of the fleet which dashed to the rescue at first word of the disaster. Indications this morning were that most of the 339 persons who were aboard had been saved.

Ashore, it was a night of suspense and hope. Until well after midnight the rescue vessels, poking into the gloom with their long white fingers of light, reported only failure. With the exception of some little wreckage, there was nothing to be found. There was not a trace of the vessel's 339 passengers and crew who had taken to the sea in open boats.

Flares Bring Hope

And then, at 3:30 a. m. came the first hopeful word. At that hour the steamship American Shipper sent out a message saying that red flares had been sighted. The communication was intercepted by the Naval Radio station and by the Radio Marine corporation at New York.

A tense half hour followed. At 4 o'clock the American Shipper reported that the first life boat had been found, and was alongside. The vessel's radio message said: "Now on scene. One life boat alongside us now."

Just a little while later a second rescue vessel, the oil tanker Myriam, sent out word that it, too, had located a life boat, and a little later still told of others in the offing. A message from the Myriam to the steamship Sunewco urged that that vessel hurry to the thick of the hunt. It said: "Come on. More boats to pick up. Am bound New York myself. Have rescued boat No. 5."

Five Lifeboats Picked Up

Another message from the American Shipper was the next to be received. It went on the air shortly after five o'clock and said: "About five miles north of position where found first life boat. Approaching four other life boats now."

And then, at 5:40 the American Shipper summed up what she and the Myriam had accomplished in a report to the battleship Wyoming, which said that between the two they had accounted for five life boats and one raft. The survivors in three of the life boats were taken aboard the American Shipper, while the Myriam cared for the rest.

This message was followed by another from the American Shipper at about 6:15 a. m., stating that all the Vestris life boats, with the possible exception of one life raft had been picked up.

EARLY REPORTS OF DISASTER

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—One of the greatest sea disasters in history was feared for many hours tonight as the result of the sinking of the Lamport & Holt steamship Vestris, bound from New York to Barbados and South America, about 240 miles off the Virginia capes.

The 128 passengers and 210 members of the crew—339 persons in all—of whom half were women and about 15 children, abandoned the sinking ship in lifeboats at 1:30 o'clock p. m.

Almost eleven hours later no trace of them had been found by eight rescue ships which reached the scene of the disaster late in the afternoon and night.

The first ship which reached the scene was the San Juan of the Puerto Rico line at 5:40 p. m., four hours and twenty minutes after the Vestris was abandoned. The San Juan reported it was unable to find either the ship or the lifeboats. It was unable to find even debris of the sinking ship.

More Ships Join Search

The same report was made by two other steamers which arrived about 9 o'clock—the Santa Barbara of the Grace line and the Japanese freighter, Ohio Maru—and by the battleship Wyoming and the destroyer Davis, which reached the spot about midnight.

The rescue squadron, which was combing the seas in wide circles, was increased to eight ships with the arrival of the American Shipper of the American Merchant line, the Italian steamer Giorgio Obizzo, and the North German Lloyd steamer Berlin, according to advices received by the Brooklyn station of the Radio Marine Corporation of America.

All night long the eight rescue ships made ever widening circles from the scene of the disaster through an eighty mile wind, heavy rolling seas, pouring rain, and thick fog. They reported by radio that they were sweeping the sea with powerful searchlights.

Despite the fears that the men, women and children who had sailed from New York on the Vestris last Saturday afternoon, including a number of Chicagoans, had met death, there were still rays of hope. It was pointed out that the thick weather made it hard for the rescue ships to tell for a certainty whether there were any life boats or rafts nearby.

Refuse to Give Up Hope

Officials of the steamship line here refused to give up hope. They said four hours had elapsed between the time the passengers and the crew abandoned the Vestris and the arrival of the first relief ship. During this period, they pointed out, the survivors might have progressed at least twenty miles toward the Atlantic coast.

In addition to eleven lifeboats and several rafts, they said, the Vestris carried a motor boat, which could have towed the lifeboats and rafts at a good speed.

The cause of the disaster is unknown. It is known that the Vestris ran into a terrific gale yesterday and was badly battered for hours. It sent out a radio message at 6 o'clock this morning that it was having trouble, but said it needed no help.

Its first S O S message was sent out at 10:45 a. m. Its subsequent appeals for help in the three hours and twenty minutes before it was abandoned said it had to be in the storm at noon Sunday, that it had developed a 35 degree list to starboard last night, that its decks were under water and that it was sinking slowly.

Spring Leak in Storm

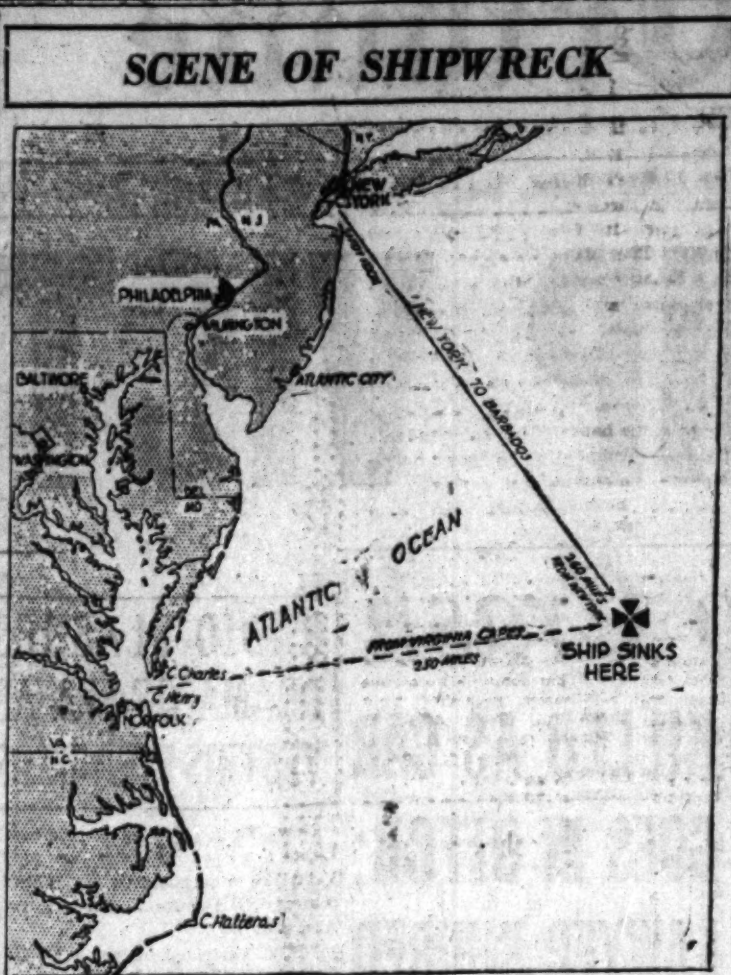

The destroyer Davis wireless the additional information that it had learned the Vestris sprang a leak during the storm.

Officials of the line said they were unable to explain the listing of the ship until they received further details, unless the hull was badly damaged by the heavy seas when it was hit by a wave on Sunday, or it was struck by some submerged wreckage.

Radio broadcasting along the Atlantic coast was halted from the time the first S O S was received until about 1:40 p. m. At this time, fifteen minutes after announcing that the passengers and crew were leaving the ship, the radio operator of the Vestris sent his final message.

"Good-by to WBC," it said.

WBC is the Radio Corporation of

SCENE OF SHIPWRECK

American receiving station at Tucker, N. J.

Listeners at radio receiving stations here were able to pick up a dramatic interchange of messages between the Vestris and the Ohio Maru, which was among the ships nearest to the scene.

After the first S O S from the Vestris, the Japanese ship replied that she was proceeding to the spot, and expected to arrive about 5 p. m.

The answer from the Vestris was the most dramatic of the aerial dialogue. It was:

"O, please come at once. We need immediate attention."

Following the "good-by" message from the Vestris, the next word from the scene of the disaster came at 5:45 p. m. This was from the San Juan, as follows:

"Have reached position given by S. S. Vestris and cruising about. No sign of life boats."

The Santa Barbara wireless later: "At 5 p. m. in vicinity of wreck of Vestris. Searchlights working, but no sign of wreck or lifeboats. Will cruise around."

Another vessel made a similar radio report about the same time, but its call letters were not distinguishable. It was not known whether this was a third vessel on the scene or was the San Juan making a supplementary report.

"Lying on Beam Ends"

David H. Cook, director of the Lamport & Holt line, said he sent a radio asking for an account of the trouble to Capt. W. J. Carver, master of the Vestris, after the first S O S. Mr. Cook received the following reply at 11 o'clock:

"Have to turn nose yesterday [Sunday]. During night developed 35 degree list. Starboard deck under water. Ship lying on beam ends. Impossible to proceed anywhere. Sea moderately rough—Crazy."

At 12:30 p. m., Mr. Cook continued, the company received its final message from the Vestris. This came from M. J. O'Loughlin, chief wireless operator, and said:

"No steam in engine room now. Watch for my spark plug call. Power liable to go off any minute now."

Dunes Cargo Shifted

Asked for his opinion as to the cause of the disaster, Mr. Cook said: "I cannot tell until I receive further details. It could not have been the cargo shifting, as some reports have it."

Shipping experts here were inclined to believe that the battering the Vestris received while she lay heve in the trough of the sea for twenty-four hours might be the explanation of the disaster. The theory was advanced that the pounding of the sea stove in some plates and that enough water went in to cause the ship to

STORMY NEPTUNE TAKES BIG TOLL ALL OVER WORLD

40 Lost When Soviet Ship Sinks; Several Aground

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Nov. 12.—[U. P.]—Meager reports received here today said that forty persons were lost when the Soviet steamer Kermok sank thirty miles off the coast of Asia Minor. Part of the crew was believed to have been cast adrift in small boats.

Several Hurt on Mauretania

LONDON, Nov. 12.—[U. P.]—The Daily Mail tonight received a radiogram from the liner Mauretania saying that some of her passengers had been slightly injured during gales which the ship had battled for three days. The wind was reported to have attained a velocity of 80 miles an hour, with exceptionally high seas. The captain said it was one of the worst gales he had encountered in recent years. The Mauretania sailed from New York on Nov. 7.

Trawler Stranded; Crew Saved

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Nov. 12.—[U. P.]—The trawler Solon, from Grimsby, was stranded today on the south coast east of Point Hjeltefshof. All of the crew was rescued except one man, who perished of exposure in the stormy weather.

Pirates Surround Grounded Ship

SHANGHAI, Nov. 12.—[U. P.]—Gunboats raced today to the assistance of the British steamer Hain Chi, beached off Tze island, near Foochow, and menaced by pirates.

The Hain Chi wireless that it was surrounded by scores of small pirate craft, while hostile islanders menaced the passengers, who had been landed. The passengers and crew, comprising 500 Chinese and a few foreigners, including several Anglo-Americans, had been landed with Capt. Tollefson, the wireless said. The Dutch steamer Tjitaroom was standing alongside the Hain Chi.

Whaling Ship Icebound

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 12.—[U. P.]—Twelve Norwegians and three Americans were aboard the Norwegian ship Elfish when the vessel became icebound at North Cape, Siberia, while en route to Seattle. It was announced today. The ship was chartered by an American sealing firm. There were plenty of provisions on board.

TWO CLEVELAND BOATS ASHORE, BUT BOTH SAFE

Cleveland, O., Nov. 12.—[U. P.]—Churned up by the fury of a forty mile wind, the waters of Lake Erie stranded two Cleveland boats on the shore near here today. They are the Edward J. Berwin, ore freighter owned by the Franklin Steamship company, and the Coralia, owned by the Nicholson Universal Transportation company.

The wind tonight had died down to a thirty mile gale. Both vessels, it is believed, will easily make port tomorrow.

practice in Chicago, having graduated thirty years ago at the Chicago College of Law. For more than two decades he has been known as one of the leading Chicago lawyers engaged in the trial of criminal cases. His home is at 801 South Ashland avenue.

Immediately after the fatal accident a report became current, but was unconfirmed, that Curran and De Stefano were returning from a conference with Joe Salta at a Wisconsin resort near Waukegan. Salta has been sought by police and government authorities since the state supreme court 178 days ago issued a mandate ordering him to serve a sixty day sentence in the House of Correction and pay a $100 fine for carrying concealed weapons.

Salta, it was said, offered to surrender but dictated certain terms which, according to this report, were discussed by Curran and Attorney De Stefano. Curran was the father of Municipal Judge George A. Curran, who sentenced Salta.

THE TEMPLETON ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Templeton, well known in Lake Forest society, were in the Evanston hospital following an automobile accident Sunday night. Their car was struck in Wilmette by an automobile driven by Glen W. Tassley of Zion, Ill. Mr. Templeton, a well known lawyer, received minor injuries, while his wife's condition was said to be critical.

Four deaths yesterday raised the Cook county motor toll to $14.

Miss Frances Stepanek, 35 years old, 1750 West Congress street, died at the Presbyterian hospital of injuries received when she was struck by a truck at Madison street and Ogden avenue on Sunday night. The truck was driven by Morris Robin, 1811 South Miller street.

Frank Gronklaus, 46 years old, 3339 North St. Louis avenue, died if injuries received Sunday night when he was struck while crossing Irving Park boulevard at St. Louis avenue by an automobile driven by V. Loftis, 23, of 2844 Burling street.

Miss Clara Newbecker, 75 years old, a retired school teacher, who lived at 439 Oakwood boulevard, died in the Lakeside hospital of injuries received Nov. 7 when she was struck by a Checker taxicab driven by M. Shamburg, 35 years old, at Oakwood boulevard and Ellis avenue.

Philip Brown, 13 years old, colored, 4744 South Wabash avenue, was killed when he fell from a truck at Wabash avenue and 59th street.

WILL STOP GAMBLING IN NEW ORLEANS WITH MILITIA IF POLICE FAIL

New Orleans, La., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The state militia will be sent into New Orleans to stop gambling if the city police fail to act, Gov. Huey P. Long said here today after he had completed raids with the state militia on two establishments in Jefferson parish, on the outskirts of the city.

At his hotel the governor said: "St. Bernard and Jefferson parishes have been visited and New Orleans is the next on the calling list if the police keep on refusing to do their duty. The situation is rotten. If the police don't act, I will."

RETURN OF EXILED LEADER REOPENS ALSACE PROBLEM

STRASBOURG, France, Nov. 12.—(AP)—France's problems in Alsace will get a new airing as a result of the dramatic and unexpected reappearance here of Dr. Roos, one of the autonomist leaders who were sentenced to fifteen years in prison and twenty years' exile by the court at Colmar, and who took refuge in Switzerland.

Dr. Roos gave himself up to the Strasbourg police after having eluded 200 policemen and after having succeeded in speaking at a meeting held by autonomists and communists. He was promptly placed in jail.

Since Dr. Roos was sentenced by default, the whole case of the autonomists will be reopened. The prison pale in the Colmar trial were Dr. Eugene Ricklin and M. Roos, a schoolmaster, who were sentenced to jail and later paroled. While in jail they were elected deputies, but last week the chamber unseated them.

YOUTH GRIZED ON CRICK CHARGE. Orville Blake, 23 years old, 2123 North Pauline avenue, was arrested yesterday when he attempted to pass a check, alleged to have been worthless, for a watch in the Sears jewelry store at 109 North State street.

Good Clothes, $75 Called Girl's Least in New York

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Girls who have not got at least $75 cash and a complete outfit of good looking office clothes were advised today to stay from New York by Cornelius Marshall, president of the Association to Promote Proper Housing for Girls. That advice, she said, was based on reports from an investigating committee on the cost of living while hunting a job and from a canvass of New York City employers. The canvass of employers, she said, resulted in this: "We would rather engage a girl who looks smart but is untrained than a competent worker who does not look smart. We can teach a girl to know her work, but we cannot teach her how to dress."

GRAND JURY MAY SIFT STEWART JURY SCANDAL

Venireman Tells Court of "Fixing" Attempt.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Another jury fixing scandal, revealing that in the Sinclair-Pill Trust Dome conspiracy case last year, appeared imminent tonight. District Attorney Leo Rover declared he may take Robert M. Caldwell, prospective juror in the perjury trial of Ernest W. Stewart, Standard Oil company (Indiana) chairman, before the grand jury tomorrow or Wednesday.
Caldwell's sensational story in court today that he was approached yesterday by a mysterious stranger known only as "McGinnis," who asked the venireman if he would "hold out in this case," is being investigated by the district attorney's aids. A city-wide search for "McGinnis" is under way tonight.

Three Women on Jury.
The dramatic incident was not allowed to interfere with the selection of a jury. Before adjournment was taken this afternoon, three women and nine men had been sworn as jurors and Frank J. Hogan, chief of Stewart's counsel, had virtually completed his opening statement of the defendant's case. The jury was locked up in a hotel for the night.

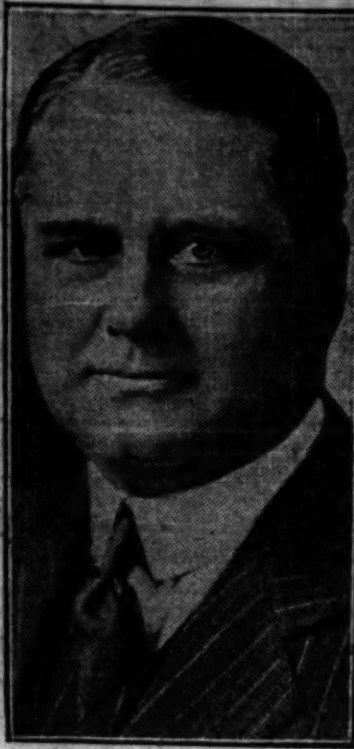

Asked to "Hold Out" in Case.
Caldwell, who identified himself as an employee of a produce commission merchant, was one of the first group of veniremen called into the jury box. Justice Bailey had reached the usual "Have any of you discussed this case with others?" in his list of questions when Caldwell suddenly rose in the box.

"Your honor," he said, "a young man came to see me yesterday and asked me if I would hold out in this case."
Justice Bailey instantly quieted the ensuing confusion and asked Caldwell to describe the man. The venireman said the alleged "fixer" was 21 years of age, had brown hair, wore a gray suit, and gave the name of McGinnis. Caldwell denied knowing the man and said he warned him that it was improper for a prospective juror to discuss a case in which he might be called to serve.

The justice asked the other veniremen if they had been approached by any one, and upon the motion of Attorney Hogan, Caldwell was promptly excused from service.

Demands for the Government.
In his opening statement for the government District Attorney Rover reviewed the history of the famous Continental Trading company chapter of the Teapot Dome scandal. He told of Stewart's appearance before the senate investigating committee when he first denied any knowledge of how the Continental company's profits were divided, and later admitted that he had handled $769,590 of the profits in the form of Liberty bonds. After his second appearance, Stewart's indictment for perjury was virtually ordered by senate resolution.

COL. ROBERT W. STEWART.

Claims Stewart Told Truth.
Attorney Hogan, for the defense, declared that Stewart told the literal truth when he asserted to the senators that he "never personally profited a dollar" out of the transaction. He said that the defense will show that, before any of the bonds came into his hands, Stewart arranged for them to be held in trust for the ultimate benefit of either the Standard Oil company or the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company.

WEST CANCELS ANOTHER FALL OIL CONTRACT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Another royalty oil contract, in this case covering production in the so-called Cat Creek field in Montana—executed by Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, was canceled by Secretary of the Interior Roy O. West today.

The contract was held by the Lewiston Oil and Refining company. It was revoked in accordance with an opinion of Attorney General Sargent that Fall exceeded his legal authority in allowing the company a renewed option. The Midwest Refining company's contracts were abrogated a few weeks ago for the same reason.

115 POUND CLERK AWAITS CHANCE; KILLS ROBBER

Opens Fire on Bandit Who Held Him Up Before.

Louis Kovits, a mild mannered little clerk who weighs about 115 pounds and wears tortoise shell glasses, shot and killed a robber last night in the United Cigar store at 2401 West Roosevelt road. It was the same robber who had taken $3 in telephone slugs from him on Oct. 13. The man entered as Kovits was counting his receipts. The safe and the cash register were open.

"Stick 'em up," he said. "You know me and I'll blow your head off if you make a move."
Clerk Waits for Chance.
Kovits obeyed. The bandit reached into the cash register and took $30. Then he moved to the safe. As he bent over it Kovits drew a pistol from his belt. When the robber turned around and remarked that there was no money in the safe, the clerk's pistol was leveled on him.

Kovits fired. His first bullet struck the man in the abdomen. He tried to fire back, but the hammer of his pistol fell on a defective cartridge and it failed to go off. Before he could try again Kovits shot four times more. One bullet struck his head and threw his chest. He fell dead against the counter.

The police came and found the $30 in the robber's pockets. Kovits said there was no doubt he was the same man who held him up last month. Louis Blum, who operates a motion picture show at 2407 West Roosevelt road, then identified the dead man as one who had taken $200 in a robbery of the theater two weeks ago.

Identified as Convict.
In the man's pocket also was a paper with the name Maurice Smith and the address 3365 West Roosevelt road. A comparison of fingerprints at the bureau of identification showed, according to Lieut. Joseph Burke, the slain man is the same Maurice Smith who was sentenced to the Pontiac reformatory in 1924 for robbery. His sentence then was three to twenty years. There is no record at the bureau showing that he was released from the prison.

COURT TO DECIDE THE WORTH OF "COLD IN HEAD"

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Nov. 12.—A French court debated last night a current of air in worth today, when Jules Demoulin sued his employer for $4,000, alleging he caught a "chronic cold" while working in an office where broken window panes allowed the winter breezes to trick about his head.
"I am unable to do anything but cough, spit, and blow my nose," the plaintiff croaked hoarsely.
"It is all bunk. Work, not a draft, made him sick," the employer retorted.

Another clerk testified that the office was as cold as an ice box. The final witness, however, rallied to the defense, testifying that M. Demoulin was a crank.

The court decided to appoint a medical commission to decide the merit of the case.

Robbery Suspect Appears; Asks to Face Victims

Thomas Abbott, who has been sought since Oct. 23 as a suspect in the robbery of Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank, and John F. Hagay, first vice president of the same institution, in front of the Hagay home at 537 Barry avenue, appeared at the detective bureau with an attorney yesterday. He asked that Mr. Traylor and Mr. Hagay view him and decide definitely whether he was the robber. It wasn't convenient for the victims to see him last night, so Adams was instructed to come to the bureau again today.

4, Armed With Shotguns, Hold Up Cigar Store Clerk

Four men, two armed with shotguns and the others with pistols, entered the cigar store of John A. Kasey, 23 South Halsted street, early today and took a total of $450 from Kasey, a clerk, and four patrons, who were lined up in a rear room. A little later a detective bureau squad and two motorcycle policemen found three men breaking into the Eisenstein clothing store at 437 West Roosevelt road. The burglars fled.

DEATH IN MINE EXPLOSION.
Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 12.—(AP)—One man was killed and another was slightly injured in an explosion of gas in the Delmar mine of the Yonkersville Coal and Coke company in Logan county last night, the state department of mines was advised today. The mine was members of a rock dusting crew.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to direction. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

ALL YOUNGSTERS NEED CEREALS

Sugar as a flavor makes these healthful foods enjoyable.

Growing bones and teeth require the health-giving minerals and vitamins that are freely found in grain cereals and breakfast foods. Grains are nature's foods and they supply elements necessary to growth and nutrition. They are excellent in connection with milk, but it is sometimes hard to get children to eat them.

A judicious and reasonable amount of sugar added to these foods will work wonders in making them palatable, tasteful and enjoyable. No ingredient adds so much to the taste appeal of other foods. Sugar adds to the enjoyment of all kinds of fresh fruits and vegetables, so valuable in the diet of growing children. Use sugar as a condiment in making healthful foods acceptable to the palate. Sweetness, as the perfect flavor in foods, stimulates the flow of saliva and of gastric juice, thereby aiding digestion, as well as enjoyment.

Medical authorities warn parents to guard the nutrition of their children. See that your children eat regularly of varied, nutritious foods—thereby being safeguarded against such diseases as tuberculosis. Far better that your child be slightly overweight for its height and age than a single pound underweight. Good nutrition is absolutely necessary to health and proper development. MT. ETNA'S LAVA SLOWS; FEAR IT'S ONLY TEMPORARY

BY DAVID DARRAH
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer)

TAORMINA, Sicily, Nov. 12.—Mount Etna's fire belching lava again but thirty yards today in its advance toward the sea. Today's slackening of the lava advance, however, was due to the spreading out of the lava front as it reached lower ground. The volume of molten lava pouring out of the craters is gushing forth as profusely as ever.

hilled by the hope that their prayers were being answered. Torrential rains fell over the whole district today and tonight and such is the murky obscurity that for the first time the fire on the mountain and the lava path are invisible.

Moves Toward Two Towns

The torrent today seemed to be consolidating its ground, preparing for another drive. The spasmodic end of the viscous river is being filled in, making a sort of knob appearance. In daylight it seems like the huge club of a giant flung against a mountain which is slowly sliding down toward the ocean.

The trend of the flow is over toward the hamlets of Santa Maria la Strada and Riposto.

Prof. Ponte, volcanic expert, could give no assurance today when the flow is likely to relent. He still believes it will probably continue for weeks. Day and night this scientist watches the work of the monster from the lava front and from the Mount Etna observatory high up on the main cone. The main hope against continued destruction is that the lava will rush into the sea instead of turning right, as at present, toward Riposto.

Peasants Have Narrow Escape

In a four of the front today over worn out roads with lava of water and mud I passed about a hundred peasants sleeping in temporary homes. One group, which lived high on the mountain above Masculi and not far from the boiling craters, was miraculously saved, I was told today.

These peasants had a traditional belief that the mountain always grows and bellows before it erupts. Consequently, when the lava flow started they went peacefully to sleep. During the night one of the peasants awoke suddenly and saw a molten cascade catapulting down toward his hut. He alarmed the others and they escaped in the nick of time, leaving all animals behind to perish.

Sensible to the tragedy, the people of nearby towns are giving an example of human solidarity. Fifty dollars is being subscribed voluntarily by Sicilian associations and individuals, while citizens of Piumazzo and Giarre are opening their houses to refugees, giving wholehearted hospiality to women and babies and the aged.

Damage Estimate Mounts

The estimate of damage is mounting higher into the millions of dollars as the lava's progress becomes more precise. Three towns are ruined and two railroad lines—the Messina to Catania line, and the line around Etna—are cut and partly submerged, and the traffic suspended. About 200 hectares of lemon groves and 800 more of vineyards have been destroyed and many more rendered unprofitable.

The officials of Catania today showed me huge piles of telegrams from frantic Sicilians in the United States asking information about their relatives and asking the extent of the damage. These are being answered through the Italian consulates.

Much dismay is expressed in the nearby towns, where it is feared the eruption will ruin the tourist season.

View from Mountain Top.
Early this morning I climbed up the mountain side beyond the town of Piumazzo, to the northeast of the eruption zone, to see the boiling cauldrons. The trip requires two hours and a half by mule. It was an infernal sight. The dense vapor hung in the valley below, obscuring the view of all but the mighty fire, which painted red shadows over the white mist of the mountain. It was like a sheet of lightning.

Cabinet Votes Relief Funds

ROME, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Sig. Giurati, minister of public works, appeared before the council of ministers and recommended a decree law for the relief of the stricken populations, which was adopted. Relief funds will be forthcoming from the public works budget after consultation with the minister of finance, who is authorized to provide all the funds necessary for the relief of the population and the reconstruction of destroyed buildings.

The minister of the interior was allowed about $50,000 as an advance fund to start relief measures immediately. The minister of communications also was authorized to lower tariffs.

HOOVER'S TRIP TO SO. AMERICA STARTS MONDAY

He Will Get 21 Guns at Every Port.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Palo Alto, Cal., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—President Elect Hoover will sail on the battleship Maryland for a two months' tour of South America on Monday from San Pedro, it was definitely announced today.

The Hoover party will consist of about forty members. The state department is to be represented by Henry P. Fletcher, ambassador at Lima, who is an expert on the diplomatic situation in the various republics to be visited.

The complete itinerary will be announced in a day or two. Invitations have come to Mr. Hoover through the state department from every country in the southern hemisphere, and he is expected to visit them all.

He is waiting for the state department to make up the itinerary. Mr. Fletcher is due to arrive in Los Angeles on Saturday. The President elect will leave here on a special train for Los Angeles Sunday evening.

Naval Aid to Go.
Mr. Hoover's own party will consist of about fifteen persons, including a naval aid. About twenty-five newspaper men and camera men will accompany the party. Allen Hoover will go along, but Mrs. Hoover has decided to remain at home. There will be interpreters, stenographers, and a secret service guard.

The rainy season has begun in California and today the first real rain in many months drenched the hills. Mr. Hoover remained indoors, working. He is trying to leave here with a clean desk and it is a mountainous job. Every one in the country who has a bright idea about how to reform the government writes to him. Pacifists mail is heavy. There are some threatening letters. These are all turned over to the secret service and the postoffice inspectors. Six stenographers are necessary to handle the correspondence now. He will escape all of this when he goes to sea.

He Rates 21 Guns.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—(AP.)—Although he still will be officially a private citizen, President Elect Hoover will be given full presidential honors by the Latin American countries which he will visit on his trip aboard the Maryland.

Mr. Hoover thus will be entitled to a salute of 21 guns on entering the ports of South American countries. This state department, it is understood, has communicated with the South American governments and suggested that Mr. Hoover be treated as if he were already the chief executive of the United States.

HUNT BANDITS WHO KIDNAPED RAILWAY AGENT

Search was being made yesterday for three Chicago bandits who forced Ralph R. Ross, ticket agent for the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad at Waukegan, to open the station safe early yesterday morning and give up about $500 of the company's money. Ross told this story to the Stimmerdale police and detective bureau squads were ordered to search for the robbers.

Ross told the police that as he stepped from his home at 239 Park avenue, Waukegan, about 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning he was forced into a sedan by two armed bandits. The third man drove the car. Ross said he protested to the men, thinking at first they were policemen, that they had picked up the wrong man. He said they drove him to the station and under threat of "blowing his head off" forced him to give up the combination of the safe.

The bandits then forced Ross to lie face down on the floor of the automobile and drove him to the 6100 block of North Rockwell street. There he was released with a warning, he says, not to be in too much of a hurry to notify the police.

INQUEST EXONERATES BROTHER.
A coroner's jury yesterday held John Garrio, 33 years old, of Fond du Lac, Wis., blameless for the death of his brother, George, whose body was taken from the Des Plaines river at Schiller Park on Saturday. The police held him when it was learned that each of the brothers had insured his life with the other as beneficiary.

NOTHING equals women's natural beauty or the radiance of girlhood's glowing freshness.

Today, at forty women are not as old-looking as they were a few years back. And complexions once discolored are regaining former loveliness.

The secret is a simple home beauty treatment. Follow it night and morning and your skin will keep its natural loveliness. Follow these directions:

First, work up a lather of the palm and olive oils embodied in Palmolive Soap. Massage them into the skin with your two hands until they penetrate and gently cleanse the pores of powder, rouge and dirt. Then rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. Do this daily without fail.

Women by the thousands will tell you it is the best way they know to prevent blackheads, blemishes, enlarged pores and common skin faults.

Note the natural glow of girlhood days that follows its use. Use only Palmolive—a soap made for one purpose—to safeguard good complexions. 10 cents, everywhere. Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, Ill.

ELECTION SHOWS UNEQUAL VOICE AMONG VOTERS

States Not Given Constitutional Rights.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Extraordinary inequalities in representation of the states in congress and in the electoral college which chooses the President are disclosed by the results from the national election last week.

Thirteen states have 66 more, and 10 have 66 fewer votes in congress and in the electoral college than would be the case were representation therein based on the popular vote instead of on population.

Had the representation been based on the popular vote in each state, Texas would have had 479 instead of 34, and Smith 53 instead of 37 electoral votes. In a close election the inequalities might easily result in the election of the candidate receiving the most popular votes.

Constitution Ignored.

Representation in the national house of representatives is based by the constitution on population. By the last apportionment there is one representative for each 311,877 persons in the country under the census of 1910. Congress has failed to reapportion on the basis of the 1920 census.

The electoral college of each state consists of as many electors as it has senators and representatives. In the 48 state electoral colleges there are a total of 531 electors.

Seven of the 13 states having more congressmen and presidential electors than they would be entitled to on the basis of the popular vote are southern states. Their representation is based on population, but a large proportion of the population in the southern states is disfranchised by laws to eliminate the voice of the Negro in government. The result therefore is a representation disproportionate to the qualified electorate.

Here Are States Affected.

If representation in congress and the electoral colleges were based on the popular vote Texas would lose ten congressmen and ten electors; Georgia, 1; Alabama, 7; Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia, 5 each; Arkansas and Louisiana, 3 each; North Carolina, 2, and Connecticut, Florida and Ohio, 1 each.

Conversely, California would gain 11; Illinois, 10; New York, 9; New Jersey, 7; Indiana, 4; Massachusetts and Michigan, 3 each; Missouri and West Virginia, 2 each, and Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Utah, Washington and Wisconsin, 1 each.

Illinois would have 160 instead of only 27 congressmen.

Table of Inequalities.

The disparity among the states in electing congressmen and presidential electors is graphically set forth in the following table of the total (unofficial) popular vote in each state last week, and the number of votes per representative in congress:

| State | Pop. Vote | Rep. |
|---------------|-----------|---------|
| Alabama | 246,987 | 34,308 |
| Arizona | 89,745 | 9,745 |

The effect is to eliminate from the body politic all unrepresented aliens and others unable to qualify for the voting privilege.

GERMANS REFUSE TO LINK DEBTS TO REPARATIONS

[Chicago Tribune From Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The British treasury and diplomatic officials are waiting for Premier Raymond Poincaré of France to get firmly back in the saddle so they can go on with the reparations negotiations, which now have reached a critical point. The German government has officially informed the British government that it will not accept the Halfour principle of tying reparations to the allied debts.

"Bad shoes do more than cause bad feet"

But foot troubles vanish with these orthopedically correct shoes

THOUSANDS of mothers are telling their daughters this today. They are showing them that headaches, backaches, nerve strain, restless sleep—all these and often severe organic troubles—follow in the wake of tight, high heel, short vamp, "high style" shoes. They are pointing out the easy remedy—the perfect fit, thorough comfort and corrective aid of Ground Grippers.

They are showing how, as in their own case, Ground Gripper shoes offer a positive assurance against tired, aching, painful feet.

And it is all true. Not simply an advertised promise of relief, but a fact borne out in thousands of cases throughout Ground Gripper's twenty-five years of knowing how to build orthopedically correct shoes.

Ground Grippers bring freedom from discomfort to busy feet today because they combine the following vital principles of scientifically correct shoes:

1. The Flexible Arch, which allows the foot muscles to exercise and thus strengthen themselves with every step. This flexibility makes the shoe close-fitting and comfortable, easing the foot while assisting the arch to absorb the shocks of walking.

2. The Straight Inner Line, permitting the toes to function with a free, strong, gripping action.

3. The Patented Rotor Heel, which helps you toe straight ahead, the normal, natural way.

When Ground Grippers are so certain to help, are you willing to continue to pay the price of foot neglect? When Ground Grippers have for more than twenty-five years proved their comfort-giving qualities to thousands of wearers, can you continue to doubt their ability to help you?

Give them a chance today. Learn for yourself how they ease your feet—how your foot troubles will dwindle and vanish.

At the nearest Ground Gripper store is a man who will understand your feet and your shoe problems. Drop in to see him today.

The Ground Gripper Rotor Heel helps you toe straight ahead, the normal, natural way.

CHICAGO PAUSES; PAYS TRIBUTE TO THOSE WHO DIED

Crowds Silent as "Taps"
Echoes Through Loop.

(Picture on back page.)

The quiet and orderly observance of Armistice day yesterday was in marked contrast to the delirium which swept the city on Nov. 11, 1918. Because the anniversary fell on Sunday the official celebration was held yesterday. Banks, schools, the Board of Trade, and all city and county offices were closed.

Thousands See Ceremonies.

The loop was strangely quiet at 11 a. m., when traffic was halted and all pedestrians faced to the east for one minute. At State and Madison streets a squad of marines and a navy bugler formally saluted the war dead. Taps were sounded and the marine squad fired a salute of three rounds. At the same moment all elevated trains and electric suburban trains were stopped for one minute.

In the rotunda of the federal building memorial service, under the auspices of Van Buren post No. 401 and the Federal post of the American Legion, was held before a gathering of almost 1,000 persons. Another large crowd saw ceremonies in the Marshall Field company store, where a choral society of 200 voices sang and a huge flag was unfurled.

Gen. Foreman Speaks.

At noon Maj. Gen. Milton Foreman addressed 25,000 employees of the Western Electric company's Hawthorne plant. Five thousand furniture buyers at the Furniture Mart on Lake Shore drive participated in another ceremony. At another observance of the day Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, was a speaker. About 4,000 persons participated in a parade and flag raising ceremony in Maywood.

Gilbert McClurg of Colorado Springs, formerly associated with the Chicago book publishing house, was the speaker in Mandel hall at the University of Chicago.

COURT HANDS ASTOR ESTATE OVER 4 MILLION

New York, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The estate of William Waldorf Astor, English baron, who died nine years ago, was enriched by $4,634,434 today as the result of a ruling by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The court reversed a decision by Federal Judge Knox which assessed inheritance taxes against the estate. In 1916 Baron Astor created a trust fund for the benefit of his children, his daughters-in-law, and certain charities. One of the provisions of the trust was that the Farmers Loan and Trust company, the trustee, might make changes in the amounts to be received by the various beneficiaries. The government inheritance tax was invoked on the theory that this provision meant that Baron Astor was in control of the fund to the day of his death.

Chief Judge Manton, who wrote the ruling of the Circuit Court of Appeals, declared Baron Astor did not retain control and hence an inheritance tax was improper.

At noon Maj. Gen. Milton Foreman addressed 25,000 employees of the Western Electric company's Hawthorne plant. Five thousand furniture buyers at the Furniture Mart on Lake Shore drive participated in another ceremony. Bridegroom Ends Life Despite Pleas of Wife

Raymond Taggart, 34 years old, a bridegroom of only five months, tried to commit suicide by inhaling gas in his home at 4018 Kenwood avenue Sunday evening. When his wife attempted to dissuade him he thrust her out of the house and she spent the night with friends. Yesterday morning it was learned Taggart had carried out his intention. His body was found in the kitchen, with gas flowing from all the jets of a cooking stove.

WITNESS UPSETS DEFENSE SCHEME AT FRAUD TRIAL

Admits Seeing Gun; Tells of Stir at Polls.

Harold Mortell, Democratic 20th ward precinct captain, a defense witness, late yesterday artfully tossed a monkey wrench into the defense machinery in the trial of the sixteen Eller henchmen before Judge John M. O'Connor.

Four defense witnesses testified there was nothing but peace and quiet in a polling place at 1313 Blue Island avenue when and after Jack Edmundson, a Deane worker, was kidnapped and slugged.

Mortell, who was there with these four all the time, testified he saw the kidnapping, said it was done by a man who held a pistol against Edmundson's body and that there was plenty of commotion, followed by the arrival of four or five police squads, which added to the excitement.

Prosecution Stresses Stories.
Prosecutors David D. Stansbury and Edwin J. Raber, on cross-examination, made sure to bring out that the four men who said there was no excitement were quite positive of that fact. And they were equally efficient in bringing out from Mortell all about the commotion coupled with the fact that all five witnesses were in the room when the kidnapping happened.

This was the first serious setback defense attorneys Benedict J. Short, Michael Abern, George Guenther and William S. Forrest had incurred, but if they were dismayed by it they gave no sign.

Mortell, Meyer Belder, an Eller judge of election; Archie Schwartz, an "America First" worker in the 20th ward; Eddie Elder, challenger for the Eller faction, and Carl Rottman, owner of the store at 1313 Blue Island avenue, where the polling place was located, were the witnesses. All were called in behalf of Morris Brownstein, one of Ross Morris Eller's chief lieutenants, who is charged with instigating the Edmundson kidnapping and of pointing Edmundson out to the gangsters.

At Polls All Day.
Belder, Elder, Schwartz and Rottman all testified they got to the polling place around 5:30 a. m. last April 10 and that within a short time they saw Morris Brownstein there. All four testified they remained throughout the day and evening and that Brownstein was almost constantly under their observation. Flatly, they testified, he had no hand in the kidnapping of Edmundson.

In fact, testified these four, they were so busy attending to their various individual duties in the place that they were not even aware anybody was kidnapped. Certainly, they said, they didn't see anybody with a gun.

Didn't Know of Kidnaping.
Belder said he went to a washroom about the time the kidnapping happened—if it happened—and that he "heard about a half hour after I came out" that "somebody had called somebody outside." Elder testified he was occupied in watching for a chance to challenge somebody up near the ballot box when he heard somebody come in and call, "Where's Mr. Jack Edmundson?" and somebody else reply, "Here or there he is"—and that was all he knew of any kidnapping. Elder said Morris Brownstein was right beside him when that happened and could not have had anything to do with it.

Mortell agreed that Brownstein had nothing to do with the kidnapping, but he knew it occurred.

Tells of Seeing Gun.

"I saw a fellow come into the place," he testified. "He called out, 'Where's Jack Edmundson?' Edmundson was standing over to one side. He called out, 'Here I am!' Then the fellow told him, 'There's somebody outside wants to see you.' Edmundson said, 'Tell him to come in.'"

"The fellow then grabbed Edmundson and pushed a blue steel gun in his stomach, and pulled him outside."

"Was there any excitement or commotion right then?" the witness was asked on cross-examination. And he testified there was a great deal. Brownstein will take the stand in his own defense this morning.

JURY TO SEEK GALPIN AGAIN; QUIZ ON TODAY

Detectives will start out today immediately after the impaneling of the November special grand jury with a subpoena for Homer K. Galpin, chairman of the Republican county central committee, but indications yesterday were that the political boss of the 27th ward would again be among the missing.

Special Assistant Attorney General Frank J. Loeesch has been attempting for the last five months to get Galpin before one of his special grand juries, but he always found him out of town.

Word was received yesterday from Iron River, Mich., that Galpin has taken out the only nonresident deer hunting license so far issued at that place. It is believed by the prosecutors that Galpin will find hunting more to his pleasure than a session with a grand jury answering questions about campaign contributions. Galpin has been in the city for the last week, but no grand jury was in session and he could not be subpoenaed.

Prosecutor Loeesch said that the new jury probably would not start active work until tomorrow afternoon. He said the first session would be devoted to organization and that witnesses, probably some police officials, would not be called until the following day.

HALF MILLION BY ROCKEFELLER TO JEWISH FARMERS

New York, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—John D. Rockefeller Jr. has donated $500,000 to the fund being raised for the further development of Jewish farm settlements in Russia. Receipt of Mr. Rockefeller's check for that amount was announced by James N. Rosenberg, chairman of the American Jewish Joint Agricultural corporation. In his letter Mr. Rockefeller said that after a study of the data submitted to him and his associates by the corporation, they had been impressed with the value of the work as "a notable and creative example of social engineering."

cleated tires that grip like a cleated shoe

CHAINS this winter? NO! Yet, safety all the time—not just when chains are on! And quietness all the time—not just when chains are off!

Cleated tires are the tire industry's answer to winter's most annoying problem.

What an innovation!

The picture tells the story. Cleated tires... grip wet roads... bite into snow... are sure-footed in slush and mud... respond effectively to the demands of four-wheel brakes.

AND THEN, after the trying conditions of winter have worn down the cleats, comes into play the standard long mileage Dunlop non-skid balloon tread... ready when spring comes, to take over the changed road demands brought about by the difference between winter and spring road conditions.

The winter mileage provided by the cleats themselves is entirely additional to the standard tread mileage.

Dunlop considers this cleated tread, this winterized tire, one of the greatest of its many inventions for the safety and comfort of motorists.

To Dunlop dealers: If the Dunlop representative has not had time to reach you, wire your orders to the nearest Dunlop warehouse.

WINTERIZED TIRE

What Price Color?

FINE feathers never fattened a fowl any more than a good paint job ever increased the mileage of a car.

Color isn't a substitute for power—the pulling strength of automobiles and publications is under the hood.

The fundamental strength of the American Weekly is in the engine—but we especially emphasize the use of color pages, because its presses are rigged to deliver three extra printings at practically the same price as black and white.

The difference per copy is so microscopic that an ordinary pencil can't figure the fraction.

We furnish color at the cost of the ink to print it—not at a forty-fifty- or sixty per cent premium.

The American Weekly sells readers, not presentation—it sells circulation, not decoration.

It sells metropolitan domination, territorial saturation, and selective concentration in the sixteen great cities and all the up-and-doingest towns of "Uncle Sam's ready-cash belt."

It offers mass, class and coverage in the centers of national distribution and in the strongholds of national wealth.

Its spread is confined to high-wage, big income, steady employment districts where the most and the best goods are consumed; where the most and the best stores are located; where larders, wardrobes, medicine cabinets and toilet tables shop every day regardless of rain, drought, timber cut, mine output, corn borer, boll weevil, frost or flood.

American Weekly folk won't spend a dollar more or less if copper rises or falls, or farm relief legislation passes or fails.

Year after year they absorb their expected share of car, cannery and cosmetic output—smoke as hard, dress as well, and indulge their whims and extravagances as usual.

Half of our population lives in communities of ten thousand and upwards. And the American Weekly averages a reader in every other household of these towns.

"Peacock periodicals" may spread their gaudy tales and dazzle space buyers with fancier plumage, but when the returns are checked, sad-eyed balance sheets find that high-calendered stock and elaborate reproduction processes haven't yet managed to increase per capita consumption one tinker's dam.

Advertising's job is to sell goods, to secure the heaviest orders at the lightest cost, to reach the most families and the most responsive families at the lowest rate—which isn't a problem in art, but in merchandising.

The successful printed page, like the profitable shop window, must primarily attract the crowds. If it doesn't draw them it doesn't pay.

And the American Weekly is sold where the crowds are densest, where every other passer-by tosses a dime on the newsstand for the only periodical that ever attained five and a half million circulation without a premium, a clubbing discount, a subscription campaign, or a "won't you help" appeal.

The American Weekly hasn't a competitor within comparison distance.

Its immensity hasn't a precedent and its pulling power hasn't a parallel.

Its format, its editorial content, satisfy the largest body of readers on earth, and its returns satisfy the dividend rate.

What more can you ask for your money? Sixteen thousand dollars per color page—and all the color the copy calls for.

700,000 MODERN HOMES RISE ON WAR TORN RUINS

Work of Reconstruction in France Nears End.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Ten years after the close of the world war France is approaching the end of its labor of reconstruction in the devastated regions.

That labor has changed the whole aspect of northern France. Model villages, many of them built through the generosity of American and Dutch philanthropists and societies, have sprung from the ruins of picturesque and rambling old-world towns. Neat rows of cement and brick houses stretch along the streets that show little traces of war's devastation.

Altogether nearly 700,000 destroyed and damaged houses and farm buildings have been rebuilt. Thousands of factories and industrial establishments have been equipped with machinery and are producing at better than the pre-war rate.

Mines Better Than Before War.
Flooded coal mines in the Nord and Pas de Calais departments have been restored and are actually producing a half million tons more each month than they did before war was declared.

This huge work has cost in the neighborhood of three and a half billion dollars. Another half billion remains to be spent, and the task of reconstruction, it is expected, will be accomplished in another two years.

The human aspect of reconstruction has also been a costly one. More than two billion dollars have gone in the last ten years to the payment of pensions, the care of war-mutilated soldiers and war orphans, and in indemnities to civil victims.

Plows Uncover War Relics.
Rebuilding and the expenditure of huge sums of money, however, have not yet removed from France the last traces of conflict. Blind and maimed men are to be found everywhere. Here and there, in otherwise peaceful fields, an old trench remains, grim relic of the famed Hindenburg line, and ploughmen almost daily dig up buried shells and other mementoes of the war. Every so often a "dud" explodes and a workman is killed.

Even the destroyed cities and villages bear traces of war that only years will efface. In Rheims, although most of the ravages have disappeared, heaps of ruins still testify to the might of the German guns. Rheims cathedral has been rebuilt, but Cardinal Luçon has never been able to return to the archiepiscopal residence, destroyed by the invaders.

COL. JUDAH TO QUIT HOSPITAL FOR HOME TODAY

It was reported at the Alice Home hospital in Lake Forest yesterday that Col. Noble Brandon Judah, United States ambassador to Cuba, who broke his collar bone in a fall from a horse Sunday, would be able to return to his home today.

Col. Judah was riding in a fox hunt at the Onwentsia club when his mount shied at the last jump, hurling him to the ground. He was able to go unaided to the hospital.

U. S. CONSULATE DOOR KEPT SHUT BY FLAG DISPUTE

Chinese at Nanking Refuse to Salute.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, China, Nov. 12.—The Chinese-American claims committee has practically concluded the assessment for damages resulting to American property during the Nanking riots last year and the Chinese government is now engaged in making payment for the damages suffered by United States citizens. However, the reopening of the American consulate in Nanking is still delayed, although the Chinese government has completed repairs to the building.

The fact that the American government is still not represented by either consular or diplomatic representative at the capital is proving embarrassing to American citizens. The British government recoupled its consular property last Saturday, assigning Consul Garsten to the post. The Japanese and German governments now have consular and diplomatic agents stationed at the new national capital.

Caused by Row Over Salutes.

Chinese and American officials are uncommunicative regarding the reasons for American delay in reopening the Nanking consulate. However, a spokesman for the Chinese foreign office indicated the deadlock is not yet broken over the question of saluting the American flag, which United States Minister John Van A. MacMurray demanded as a condition for reopening the consulate.

The Chinese officials are standing pat on their contention that the Chinese-American exchange of notes last spring settled the Nanking incident. China apologized for the indignity to the United States flag and agreed to make reparations for property damages. This, the Chinese say, constituted full legal and diplomatic amends, and hence China is unwilling to salute the American flag unless the United States first officially gives a salute of twenty-one guns to the Nationalist government.

China Recognized by U. S.

The impasse is further muddled by cabled reports by Washington saying the state department solicitor has ruled that the negotiation of the recent Chinese-American tariff autonomy treaty constitutes full recognition of the Nationalist government. Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, it is reported, sent an official message of greeting to the Chinese people to be read upon the occasion of the reopening of the Nanking consulate.

"She Walks in Beauty"

Elizabeth Arden

makes beauty a reality for every woman

Not by cosmetics—that cover defects of the skin, and weariness of muscle. But by complete bodily well-being—that brings its own aura of loveliness.

An Elizabeth Arden Treatment cleans and renews the skin, because it sends a swift, cleansing stream of circulation to the cells. It smooths and firms the contours, because it strengthens the muscles of the face and throat. Wrinkles, squariness, flabbiness, a double chin are all due to lack of proper care. Elizabeth Arden's Treatments are based on a scientific understanding of the skin's essential needs.

In the Exercise Department of the Salon you may literally learn to "walk in Beauty." And the Manipulative Exercises will be taught you for the home care of the skin. There is also Miss Arden's Vienna Youth Mask, recommended by distinguished doctors, that restores natural vitality and health to tired or aging faces.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

QUICK RELIEF FOR

COLDS SINCE 1889

Full of pep while others snuffle

A fascinating girl, the men voted Dorothy, as she vigorously skated in the crisp wintry air. Her eyes bright, her cheeks wind-kissed to a lovely color, she was an inspiring picture of glowing health and vitality.

How did she avoid the sniffles which handicapped the other girls and kept them from enjoying winter's wonderful sports?

Very simply! Right after every exposure—if her feet were the slightest bit wet, or if she felt chilly, or had that warning dryness in the nose or throat—she took GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Not a minute's time did she lose. All winter she carried the little white box in her purse for just such emergencies—and for headaches, too. So she nipped the cold while it merely threatened.... To be sure of getting the original cold and grip tablets, which out-sell all others in the world, emphasize GROVE'S when asking for GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Price 30c.

In Philadelphia, A UNIQUE CONDITION MAKES YOUR "ADVERTISING DOLLAR" MORE EFFECTIVE

THE Association of National Advertisers gives this definition of the advertiser:

"National advertisers are not in business for the sake of advertising. As manufacturers and sellers of goods, they advertise to make more sales at greater profit. They are investors in advertising, and look for an adequate return."

Advertisers, today, are not buying mere circulation totals. They are demanding proof of value of that circulation as an advertising investment.

They are studying the methods by which the total was achieved; its character; the opportunity it offers to produce sales; to render an adequate return.

Endorsed by Business Leaders

The Evening Bulletin, in 1927, carried more individual retail store advertisements than all other Philadelphia newspapers combined; led all other newspapers in local and national advertising space and in individual classified advertisements, although published only six days against seven. Philadelphians place their confidence and their advertising in The Bulletin. Tell your story in its columns.

In any such study, Philadelphia stands out as a city of unique opportunity.

Of all great markets, it alone offers: Thorough coverage of city and suburbs in one newspaper and an unusually low advertising cost.

It is important to know that The Bulletin reaches nearly every home in this market of six hundred thousand homes.

But of far more importance, to know every reader is a bona fide customer for The Bulletin. Premiums, contests or scare-head news have never been used to inflate sales.

In 1895, The Bulletin had some six thousand circulation; today, the daily sale is 549,148.

A great growth! A tremendous increase! But count the years: 1895.... 1928. The years almost of a generation.

An unhurried growth.... solid.... substantial. Based alone on making a fine newspaper—

A newspaper edited for Philadelphia: Presenting news soundly and accurately; avoiding bold headlines and sensational writing.

Inspiring such confidence that it grew to be larger than any other newspaper in its city.... one of the great newspapers of America.

Here is that rare combination: A circulation with history, with character, with influence; secured without premium or contest; and yet of such volume that alone it thoroughly covers a great metropolitan market.

One newspaper.... a low cost! —In America's Third Market. A unique condition which assures investors in advertising an adequate sales return.

And in Exclusive Suburbs

Bala-Cynwyd, Bryn Mawr, Merion, Chestnut Hill, Haverford, Overbrook, Rosemont, Drexel Hill, the Old York Road Section—Suburbs that are world-famed for their palatial estates. In every suburb The Bulletin leads by far.... exceeds the combined circulation of all Philadelphia morning papers. In city and suburbs, nearly everybody reads The Bulletin. The net paid average daily sale for 1927 was 549,148 copies.

LEADER NEEDED TO FIGHT SMOKE, ALDERMEN TOLD

Engineer Calls Present Situation Hopeless.

Chicago cannot hope to lift its pall of poisonous soot and smoke until at least a semblance of leadership in smoke abatement activity at the city hall is restored, in the opinion of Edward W. Evans, chairman of the city's smoke abatement commission, now ineffectual.

"The situation under the Thompson administration has been utterly hopeless," Mr. Evans declared yesterday in a letter to Ald. Thomas Byrne (18th), head of the newly appointed council smoke subcommittee.

Excuse for Pay Roll.

"Under former Health Commissioner Bundesen, the smoke problem was attacked with vigor and vision. Since the inspection forces were taken out of the health department and put under Chief Boiler Inspector Nye, it has been merely an excuse for keeping a few pay rollers. At present it is hardly that. Mr. Nye told me personally he did not intend to prosecute the smoke ordinance. He has no interest in it and I believe the work should be taken out of his department."

During the last year, Mr. Evans asserted, the smoke evil has become "immeasurably worse." Black fogs of soot and cinders, already pouring out on the city from cold weather fires, he said, herald another sunless winter for Chicago unless remedial activity is revived.

Many Organizations Represented.

The citizens' smoke abatement commission was formed by Dr. Bundesen five years ago. It comprises representatives from the Western Society of Engineers, the Chicago Association of Commerce, the Railroad General Managers' association, the National Association of Stationary Engineers, the Union League club, the Women's City club, the City Club of Chicago, and the Chicago Real Estate board. Mr. Evans represents the Western Society of Engineers.

During the Bundesen regime, the board met regularly and functioned in an advisory capacity on smoke problems. Through its efforts, the anti-smoke force was trebled in size. It sought, in particular, to interest railroad, navigation interests, and industrial concerns in smoke abatement.

Nye Refuses Aid.

"When Mr. Nye took charge of smoke control, I visited him, and offered him the commission's aid," Mr. Evans explained. "At first he was lukewarm to us, but finally said, 'O, to hell with the commission—we'll go along without it.' Since then we have ceased to function, although we would be only too glad to start again if an opportunity is afforded."

Mr. Evans told Ald. Byrne he was in full sympathy with the proposal to create a new, independent smoke control department in the city hall. Such a department, he pointed out, should be headed by engineers of known standing and should employ a force of at least twenty inspectors, the number used under Dr. Bundesen. Mr. Nye has cut the force to five by trading smoke experts for boiler inspectors.

Ald. Byrne's subcommittee, consisting of himself, Ald. E. J. Frankfurter (49th), and Ald. E. J. Kaindl (34th), will hold its first meeting Thursday. Mr. Evans will be among those invited to attend and speak.

727,535 Visit Chicago Conventions in 8 Months

During the first eight months of this year 727,535 visitors attending 561 business and civic conventions met here have been registered in Chicago hotels, according to figures made public yesterday by the Chicago Association of Commerce. The number of conventions exceeds last year's total by more than eight per cent. The association estimates that number of visitors brought here by the conventions during 1928 will reach 1,300,000, compared with 1,227,000 in 1927.

True, St. Louis is only a short distance away and there are many methods of traveling there. But, after trying them all, you will agree, like countless others, that railroad travel is the safest and most satisfactory. You will agree also that C & E I trains to St. Louis offer unmatched service.

For instance, the non-stop "Dearborn" is the business man's favorite. He steps aboard at Chicago after the theatre, enjoys midnight supper and a smoke in the Club-Lounge, then an uninterrupted night's sleep. Carefully "valet-ed" and cheerfully breakfasted, he arrives at St. Louis at 7:21 a. m., ready to start an early business day.

Another popular train, the 6 1/2-hour "La Salle" makes a delightful daytime trip, arriving at St. Louis in the early evening. A pleasant session in the diner eating wholesome food from a well-chosen menu makes the trip even shorter.

The "Curfew," early evening train, provides a long night's rest. This is a favorite train with travelers.

TO REPEAT:

The largest allowance offered on your present car may

NOT

be the best deal for you

FOR the past two years General Motors has been publishing basic facts about trading allowances. During that time many car buyers have come to a realization that the largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal. The facts are repeated here:

Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: i. e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.

An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.

Remember that you are making a purchase—not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply using your present car as a credit against the new car's purchase price.

PREDICT BOOM IN ROAD BUILDING UNDER HOOVER

Highway Officials to Ask More Federal Aid.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

The highway officials of most of the states in the nation, in national convention this week at the Stevens hotel, hold high hopes for an unprecedented expansion and development of improved roads during the Hoover administration, according to W. C. Markham of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the association.

"The encouragement expressed by Mr. Hoover in his St. Louis speech is reflected in the attitude of the highway officials from every state represented," Mr. Markham declared yesterday, "and the association will go on record, undoubtedly, with a resolution asking for an increase in the federal aid appropriation from $33,000,000 to perhaps double that amount."

Iowa, Missouri in Van.

"Not only will the federal government be asked to enlarge the scope of its participation in the construction of interstate highways, but the states themselves give every evidence of taking long strides in the increase of purely state and local highways. Iowa has adopted a $100,000,000 bond issue program and Missouri has voted bond issue funds of $75,000,000. Other states are following this plan, and it is safe to predict that a greater advancement in highway facilities in the next four years than has been brought about in any like period in the past."

"It has been ten years since the association met in Chicago. That year the nation had about 6,000,000 motor vehicles and a little more than 40,000 miles of roads with any kind of surfacing upon them. Now we have 24,000,000 motor vehicles and 162,000 miles of paved roads. Yet with all the federal aid, there is now more than one-half of the federal aid system of roads without any kind of surfacing."

Stresses Cities' Problem.

Frank T. Sheets, state highway engineer of Illinois and president of the association, in his formal address laid stress upon the necessities of metropolitan areas in the form of traffic facilities.

"In the great metropolitan areas highway construction has not kept pace with traffic needs," he said. "Before a new road becomes travel stained it is loaded almost to capacity. The peak loads reach heights which leave the engineer at his wit's end. Only seemingly bold and daring enterprises, coupled with unprecedented expenditures, will provide any permanency of solution."

Mr. Sheets also discussed the subject of financing the highway works of the states, and expressed the opinion that the commercial vehicles now enjoying the almost free use of the state, city, and national highways are not carrying their proportionate part of the cost burden. He indicated that sentiment is growing in the country that the license fee distribution should be revised.

Academic practical problems of highway construction will occupy the time of more than 400 delegates during the week, and before the close of the session recommendations for standards of practice and design are to be adopted as a sort of informal national code in road building.

One item in the standardization code considered of more than ordinary importance is the formulation of a basis for governing the establishment of widths of highways. The engineers concluded that the peak load for highways in metropolitan areas equals four times the daily average, and that the peak load is the burden that modern roads must meet.

The association's nominating committee is to report tomorrow, and, in keeping with custom, J. N. Mackall of Maryland, first vice president, will succeed Frank T. Sheets as president.

Mrs. Stetson, Scientist Leader, Estate Is $5,000

New York, Nov. 12.—(P)—The late Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, for years a prominent figure in the Christian Science church, left an estate of "less than $5,000," according to letters of administration granted today to her nephew, Harold W. Stimpson, by Surrogate John P. O'Brien. Mrs. Stetson died in Rochester on Oct. 12. The only heir is a sister, Mrs. Estelle W. Stimpson of this city.

JUST PUSH THE BUTTON; MACHINE DOES THE REST

Not so long ago the typewriter was considered the greatest invention for office use known to mankind. They were heavy, bulky things at first, but no office was complete without one. And when the first adding machine was introduced to a pop-eyed office force, it must have created an unforgettable sensation.

Yet the standards being set by the national business show, which opened yesterday at the Stevens hotel, are making these one time marvels seem ordinary. The results of twenty-five years of progress in business methods, which have culminated in the so-called "automatic business man," are presented and demonstrated at the show.

What's New in Typewriters.

The space devoted to typewriters is thickly populated, and the dainty red, blue, and ivory portables on display are a far cry from the clumsy machines that once encumbered offices. The most outstanding exhibit in typewriters is one that writes automatically by electricity. After the original letter has been written, copies may be run off indefinitely. Another typewriter carries 40 alphabets, enabling the writer to type in 40 different languages.

Adding machines no longer merely add. They subtract, divide, multiply, and in addition, check their own answers. And there are mechanical devices which post ledgers and statements simultaneously. A new entrant into the adding machine field is an electric calculator, with which the most difficult mathematical problems may be solved rapidly by lightly touching the numbers involved in the problem.

Machine Is Algebra Expert.

Another calculating machine claims to have the ability to solve problems in algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, as easily as it finds the answer to a simple problem in addition.

There are rapid address machines, check signing machines, check indorsers, machines for metered mail postage, envelope sealers, letter openers, stamp affixers, all of which operate at a high rate of speed, and, lastly, automatic salary computing time clocks. But one is inclined to wonder, if all these mechanical devices were put to use in one office, just whose salary would be computed by the time clock.

CORN HUSKERS FROM 7 STATES COMPETE TODAY

Fowler, Ind., Nov. 12.—(Special)—Champion corn huskers of seven midwestern states will compete in the annual national corn husking contest which will be held on William Strauburger's farm near here tomorrow. The husking of the bumpboards will start at 11:30 a. m. with Elmer Williams' world champion corn husking record of 33.5 bushels picked in eighty minutes held up as the big mark before the pickers.

Williams is runnerup in the Illinois state contest. Walter Olson, Illinois' 1928 champion, also will compete in tomorrow's event, which is expected to bring out hundreds of farmers from all parts of the corn belt. Other contestants include Cecil Miles, Indiana champion, and Harry Ritter, runnerup; Ruel Harmon, Iowa champion, and Ben Grimmlus, runnerup; Otto Sorensen, runnerup of Nebraska; Omer Little, Missouri champion; William Lutz, Kansas champion, and Lester Chase, runnerup, and Silas Urdahl, Minnesota champion, and Nels Peterson, runnerup.

These very same factors (population, wealth, market compactness) which have developed here the largest daily newspaper published west of Chicago can build comparable sales volume in The 49th State for your line

The 49th State is the compact, concentrated area extending 150 miles in every direction from St. Louis. It is the natural St. Louis market.

AGAIN! The Globe-Democrat continues to set new records...

In October, The St. Louis Globe-Democrat reached a new high peak in average daily net paid circulation:

282,876

—the largest ever recorded by any St. Louis daily in a single month, and a gain over October, 1927, of 36,792.

The average daily circulation of all St. Louis newspapers for the six months ending September 30, was:

|----------------|---------|
| Globe-Democrat | 273,657 |
| Post-Dispatch | 236,571 |
| Star | 135,075 |
| Times | 74,811 |

If you want an accurate guide to the sales possibilities of a market... go to the newspaper which best covers that market. Find out where it sells its own product. Sales of your product will come easiest where its papers sell, and at low cost.

Remember, a newspaper publisher has a selling problem the same as a manufacturer... Both must make an excellent product... Both must find an eager market of substantial wealth... Both must distribute their products efficiently.

The newspaper with the most comprehensive coverage of its market offers a sales-guide which is practically infallible.

Such a newspaper is The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which for more than 75 years has been developing a sales volume so substantial, so comprehensive, that its market has become a byword of successful selling.

The very same factors which have made The Globe-Democrat the largest daily published west of Chicago, the factors of Population, Wealth and Compactness of the Market will enable you to build comparable sales volume in The 49th State.

The Population of the area within this great circle of opportunity is more than 5,000,000.

The tremendous Wealth of this area is based upon a wider variety of natural resources and industry than any other state can show.

Sales organizations, recognizing the Compactness of this market, are working it profitably, with the help of The Globe-Democrat... Highways, railroads and interurban lines link this district so closely to St. Louis that the distribution and sale of your product is practically as simple as distribution within the city itself.

Every weekday The Globe-Democrat is purchased by more than 20% of all the families in 800 towns of The 49th State—and by 63.4% of all the families in Metropolitan St. Louis... A sales-goal for you—which you can reach with the aid of The Globe-Democrat.

Naturally, we know this market... Know its buying habits... Know how to cover it... Know exactly how many sales outlets there are for your product... and know where they are... And The Globe-Democrat is the only St. Louis daily which even claims to cover them.

The Globe-Democrat analysis of The 49th State, developed through on-the-ground experience and organized by careful and searching surveys, is available to advertisers and manufacturers who are sincerely interested.

If you have not already received the 120-page book, "The 49th State Today," write to our nearest representative. A copy will be furnished without charge.

No Other Car

provides this great new

SAFETY FACTOR

New Cadillac-LaSalle Syncro-Mesh Silent- Shift Transmission

Enables one to shift gears easily, instantly, at any speed, without pausing in neutral and without any suggestion of clashing gears.

ONCE you drive a new Cadillac or a new LaSalle and experience the sense of security inspired by their amazing new gear-shift, you will not want to drive any other car. This is the conviction of everyone who has thrilled to the silent, instantaneous, effortless responsiveness of this new gear-shift.

For the new Cadillac-LaSalle Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission has—for all time—removed from gear shifting every last vestige of noise, effort, hesitancy and awkwardness.

It means easier and safer negotiation of congested traffic and hilly highways, inspiring the driver with an enviable confidence and assurance in every conceivable driving situation.

Instantaneous getaway in traffic... No pausing in neutral... Not the slightest bit of clashing—the new Syncro-Mesh Transmission is the very essence of smoothness, silence, safety and simplicity. With it any driver can shift quickly, quietly and without effort, at any speed.

This new Transmission; the new Cadillac-LaSalle Duplex-Mechanical System of Four-Wheel Brakes—the most scientific, costly and efficient braking system ever developed; and the new Cadillac-LaSalle Security-Plate Glass in all windows, doors and windshields, combine to provide a degree of motoring security not to be found elsewhere.

Drive a Cadillac or LaSalle and see what an extraordinary difference is effected by the new Syncro-Mesh Transmission and the new Duplex-Mechanical Brakes. Any Cadillac-LaSalle dealer will provide you with a car. Just telephone.

LA SALLE $2295

LaSalle prices from $2295 to $2875; Cadillac prices from $3295 up; all prices f. o. b. Detroit. Cadillac-LaSalle dealers welcome business on the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan. They will accept your present car at its full market value. It is probable that this value will be sufficient to take care of the down payment and reduce the monthly payments.

Four of the brothers are Harry, Roy, Owen, and Fred, sons of S. J. Hicks, cashier of the Bonnie bank, and Lester, Earl, and Harold are sons of A. N. Hicks, a merchant of Bonnie. Orloff Hicks, aged 9, is mascot of the team and a son of A. N. Hicks. Harry Hicks is coach of the Nason High school team. Two of the boys play on school teams.

WILLAMAN TO SUCCEED WILCE AT OHIO STATE?

Appointment Lacks Official Confirmation.

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Samuel S. Willaman, Columbus, will succeed Dr. John W. Wilce as head coach at the start of the 1929 season, it was reported today here.

While official confirmation of the appointment could not be received from the athletic department, it is understood Willaman will take charge of the Ohio State gridder for one year.

Willaman since the start of the 1925 season has been Dr. Wilce's chief of staff at Ohio State. He came from Iowa State university, where he was head football coach.

Willaman was an Ohio State graduate, attending the university from 1909 to 1912, and was the star full back on Dr. Wilce's team here in 1912. He is 37 years old and is a native of Salem, O. After leaving Ohio State he coached at Alliance and Cleveland East Tech high schools before going to Iowa State.

SCHOOL DENIES REPORT.

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—A report printed here today that Sam Willaman has been decided upon to succeed Dr. John W. Wilce as head football coach at Ohio State university when the latter's resignation becomes effective at the end of this school year was denied in a joint statement issued tonight by L. W. St. John, athletic director, and Thomas E. French, president of the University athletic board.

"There has been no discussion, either in the athletic board or by the athletic administration, of Dr. Wilce's successor," the statement said. "To broadcast such unfounded and irresponsible reports at this time is decidedly unfair to Mr. Willaman, Dr. Wilce and the athletic association."

"Such comments at this time when important games remain to be played are distinctly embarrassing to all concerned. The personnel of the 1929 coaching staff will be discussed by the athletic board when the proper time arrives, which certainly will not be until some time after the close of the season."

Badgers Hope to Halt Hawks with Passes

Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Wisconsin settled down to the business of preparing for the Iowa game this afternoon by battling the freshmen in a short but furious scrimmage. It was the first time this season a scrimmage has been held on Monday. Some of the players are badly bruised as a result of the game with Chicago Saturday.

Tonight's scrimmage was devoted to polishing the Badgers' open game. Several new overhead plays were given the squad. Passes have been their most successful way of getting within scoring distance of opponents' goals all season. The Cardinals are likely to call on the educated arms of Lashy, Behr, Bartholomew, and Cushman to score on the Hawkeyes.

Fear Hawk Forward.

The Iowa forward wall, which Whistler believes is the strongest in the conference, is another reason why Wisconsin will take to the air.

The Badger forwards, including Capt. Rube Wagner at tackle, John Parks and Joe Kravsky, guards, and Cliff Conry at center, appear in fair condition tonight, although the charging of the line as a whole was not inspiring to the coaches.

A capable reserve for Conry was secured in drafting Leighton Ahlberg, Joliet, Ill., from the B squad, which finished its season on Saturday. Other reserves who were given places on the varsity were Don Denaway, half back, and Willard Englehorn, tackle.

HAWKEYES BATTERED

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Badly battered and bruised following their hard struggle with Ohio State at Columbus Saturday the Iowa regulars were let off today with an easy half hour signal drill. After the players had limbered up their tired muscles, Coach Ingwersen sent them to the showers and ordered them to rest up for the scrimmage season against the frosh eleven, which is on the program tomorrow.

All of the Iowans reported for the drill in molehills and took part in the signal drill. The varsity eleven was composed of Redquist and Moore, ends; Juen and Schlemmer, tackles; Wegra and Roberts, guards; Brown, center; Armil, quarter back; Farrah and Glasgow, half backs, and McLean, full back.

BUCKAROO WINS JUMPERS' RACE IN U. S. SHOW

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—United States army officers took both the championship and reserve positions in competition for the Brooks-Bryce foundation cup for jumpers, the feature event on tonight's program at the 43d annual national horse show in Madison Square Garden.

Buckaroo, with Capt. W. B. Bradford up, flashed over the international course, an easy winner in a field of 22 jumpers. For the rest of the field the contest was so close that four of the jumpers were sent over the course a second time to select Buckaroo's runner-up reserve. The Wop, with Lieut. E. Y. Argo up, finally was given the reserve ribbon.

Hazelton, from the W. H. Crane Good Time stable at Goshen, N. Y., won the event for the Thomas W. Murphy cup for trotters with a record of 2:10 or better. Judging qualities for conformation and racing qualities, Hazelton holds the world's speed record for stallions, having done a mile in 2:00 1/2. Sam Williams, owned by George H. Thibault, of Cleveland, O., won second, and Scholastic, owned by E. R. N. Harriman of Goshen, N. Y., took third place.

Buckeyes Map Hard Schedule for 1929 Team

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—The stiffest football schedule ever arranged for an Ohio State university eleven was announced for 1929 by Athletic Director L. W. St. John today.

Iowa, Michigan, Indiana, Pittsburgh, Northwestern, Navy, and Illinois will be met in the order named on successive Saturdays. An additional game, probably an Ohio conference team, will be scheduled as the season's opener. Navy and Pittsburgh are newcomers on the card.

Two Games Away from Home.

Only two games, those with Michigan and Pittsburgh, will be played away from the Buckeye stadium. Navy will be played here Nov. 16, and again, in Baltimore, in 1930. The schedule follows:

Oct. 5—Open (probably Wisconsin).
Oct. 12—Iowa at Ohio State.
Oct. 19—Ohio State at Michigan.
Oct. 26—Indiana at Ohio State.
Nov. 2—Ohio State at Pittsburgh.
Nov. 9—Northwestern at Ohio State.
Nov. 16—Navy at Ohio State.
Nov. 23—Illinois at Ohio State.

JOHNNY DUNDEE WHIPS CHARLES IN 328TH BOUT

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Johnny Dundee turned back the claims of time tonight and upset the odds that youth will be served. The doughty little Italian veteran of 35 years, with 18 years of ring activity back of him and making his bid for victory in his 328th ring start, carried off the decision over Cassius Charles, 35 year old French fighter, in ten rounds of fighting which thrilled 4,000 fans at the Broadway Arena tonight.

Dillon Loses to Belanger in 10 Rounds

Charley Belanger, light heavyweight champion of Canada, last night defeated Harry Dillon of Winnipeg in the ten round winnow of Promoter Mike Malloy's show at White City. Belanger won six rounds, Dillon one, and the others were even.

The champion allowed Dillon to do the leading in the early rounds. He countered with jab to the face and a two-fisted attack to the body. Belanger weighed 174½ and Dillon 175½.

The show drew 2,100 and the receipts were $4,200.

In the heavyweight class of the semi-winnow, Billy Fries, 183 pounds, Grand Rapids, Mich., was awarded the decision in six rounds over Walter Macley, 183½ pounds, of Chicago. In the opening bout Vic Walters, 137 pounds, of Milwaukee, fought a draw with Johnny Milton, 135½, of Urbana, Ill., in four rounds.

In the 175 pound class Kenneth Hunt of Des Moines, Ia., won over Pete Truice of Rockford, Ill., in four rounds, the judges' decision.

Sergius Zappo of Paris knocked out One Round Hogan, of California, in the third round of a scheduled six round bout. They are light heavyweights.

In the heavyweight division Tim Fivac of St. Louis was awarded the judges' decision over Art Malay of Chicago in six rounds.

Kallio and Reynolds Win in Armory Mat Boats

Gus Kallio, Louisville middleweight wrestler, defeated Bobby Bylund of Minneapolis in two straight falls at the Broadway armory last night. Kallio won the first fall in 53 minutes with a bar arm hold and the second in 23 minutes and 45 seconds with a head scissors. Kallio weighed 178, and Bylund 159½. Jack Reynolds, claimant of the world's welterweight wrestling championship, threw Joe Silve, Italy, in 21 minutes with a bar split in the semi-winnow.

New York agreement to disband and Navy has no ball plans for the members of the team.

Navy's schedule just announced in midshipmen to go Ohio State, with the call in 1929. Dame will play O'Connell, Penn. The first two card, but the Hillington are newcomers.

The Navy evidence the Army scheduled to hold Nov. 13th game with rivals, for Notre-Dame's opposition for date before the cadets trip to Palo Alto. NAVY SAVES SPOT FOR ARMY ON '29 GRID SCHEDULE

But Cadets Card N. Dame on That Date.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The agreement to disagree between Army and Navy has made some juicy football plums for other institutions, notably members of the western conference.

Navy's schedule for next season, just announced in part, calls for the championship to go to Columbus to play Ohio State, with the Buckeyes returning the call in 1929. Navy and Notre Dame will play Oct. 12. The academy schedule is rounded out with eastern teams, three of the "big shots" being Princeton, Pennsylvania, and Georgetown. The first two are on this year's card, but the Hilltoppers from Washington are newcomers.

Nov. 30 Open Date.

The Navy evidently had not read the Army schedule when it was decided to hold Nov. 30 open for a possible game with their old service rival, for Notre Dame will furnish the opposition for the Army on that date before the cadets start their long trip to Palo Alto to play Stanford.

The University of Illinois will have the Nov. 9 date on the Army card at West Point or New York next fall, and Ohio Wesleyan, enjoying a great season this year, will visit West Point Nov. 22. The school from Delaware, O., is not a member of the Big Ten, but every once in a while it takes the measure of a team in the set circle—Michigan, this year.

Service Game Seems Remote.

Harvard and Yale will be played by Army on successive Saturdays in October, as was the case this year.

The makeup of the Army schedule for 1929 makes it difficult to see how a navy game can be slipped into the football calendar without embarrassing even the hardy soldiers, unless a place should be found between the Notre Dame game Nov. 30, and the Harvard clash, Dec. 28.

HERMAN FISCHER NOMINATED HEAD OF SKATE GROUP

The annual nomination meeting of the Western Skating association was held last night at the Hotel Sherman with President Edward A. Mahle presiding. Herman J. Fischer, superintendent of playgrounds for the Chicago board of education, was named to head the state association. The election meeting of the association will be held Nov. 28. Following is the slate:

President—Herman Fischer.
Vice president—Walter Wright, Henry A. Olsen, Henry E. Traub.

Notre Dame Rests; Hears Report on Carnegie Tech

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Notre Dame's gridiron camp was unusually quiet Monday for, in addition to giving the men who played against Army a rest, Coach Rockne also rested the reserves who played against the Minnesota and Iowa B teams. The former shared success with the regulars by winning from the Gophers, but the latter lost to Iowa.

All in Good Condition.

All members of the first string are in good condition despite the fierce battle with Army's powerful crew. Jack Chevigny, who was taken from the game in the fourth quarter after he had been knocked unconscious when recovering a fumble, is in a weak condition. He was entirely exhausted when taken from the game and will be given a rest throughout this week so that he will be in shape for the game with Carnegie Saturday.

The Carnegie game promises to be even more difficult than was the encounter with the Army. Assistant Coach Tommy Mills scouted the Skiboos when they defeated Georgetown's big team last Saturday, and brought back the report that they are stronger than the Army.

Defend Home Record.

Accordingly, the Irish will begin training Tuesday for what should be the football classic of the day. Carnegie is undefeated. They will come to Notre Dame with some 100 fans to urge them on to a victory over the Irish. Notre Dame will be out to prove that its team is at last welded together into a great aggregation and also to keep intact its record of no defeats on Cartier field since 1905.

And then, the Irish are remembering that it was Carnegie that kept the 1926 Notre Dame eleven from going through an undefeated season to second national championship within three years.

COAST LEAGUE VOTES AGAINST SPLIT SEASON

Portland, Ore., Nov. 12.—(AP)—After one season's trial directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball league in annual session here today voted to abandon the split season and return to the old schedule of twenty-eight weeks of play.

The directors decided to open the 1929 season March 24.

In opposing the split season, Seattle, Portland, and Oakland declared their gate receipts had fallen off considerably and the split schedule was blamed.

Outstanding in the business concluded today was the unanimous verdict against the universal draft.

Bloom Defeats Ruth as Fans Roar Disapproval

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Lou Bloom, Columbus, received the judges' decision over Babe Ruth, Louisville featherweight, after ten rounds here tonight. Fans stormed the ringside and shouted their disapproval of the decision. Newspapermen credited Ruth with six rounds, Bloom one with three even. Ruth knocked Bloom down for one second in the last round.

GROGAN STOPS GARCIA.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 12.—(U.P.)—Tommy Grogan, Omaha, knocked out Bobby Garcia of Baltimore in the second round here tonight. Harold Matthews, Lincoln, Neb., knocked out Vail Palegano of Gilpin, Neb., in the seventh round of a preliminary.

N. U. Varsity Eleven Rests as Subs Drill

Coach Dick Hanley yesterday ordered a cessation of activity in the Northwestern university football camp and sent his varsity regulars home after a lecture on the perils of a let-down.

The relief talent was sent through a light drill. Practices for the invasion of Indiana, which game will mark the windup of Northwestern's 1928 Big Ten season, will start in earnest tonight, and will be followed by intensive drills tomorrow and Thursday. The program calls for a higher rate of speed than the light workouts of last week.

Hanley last night reminded his men that the season did not end last Saturday. Indiana, and Dartmouth remain to be met, and, despite unimpressive records on the part of both, each can do considerable damage. Victories over both the final opponents would give the Wildcats a fairly successful season, with victories in six out of eight starts.

HOOSIERS TAKE IT EASY

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The Hoosiers took things easy this afternoon preparatory to their campaign for the final home tilt of the 1928 schedule when Northwestern invades Memorial stadium Saturday. The Crimson players came through the Minnesota game in much better shape than was expected.

Offensive Captain Charles Bennett aggravated an old army injury. The Hoosier back field ace has played in both the Ohio State and Minnesota games with his shoulder and arm

Mr. Hunter, Take a Shot at That Rascal, Mr. Crow

BY BOB BECKER.

Mr. Hunter, locate the crow roosts in your district as a preliminary step to a big crow campaign later in the year after the hunting seasons are over. Sportsmen's organizations throughout the middle west who want to do one good turn each winter can do it by taking a crack at the crow, one of the most notorious killers of young quail, rabbits and pheasants.

W. B. Merahon, of Michigan has written us an interesting note telling how Saskatchewan waged a war on crows. He said:

"Saskatchewan conducted a campaign to decrease the crow population last year which was a success. I do not know the exact number killed but one of the deputy wardens told me 9,000 eggs had been destroyed and my recollection is he told of several times 9,000 birds being killed."

"Heretofore I have seen them at Buffalo lake, my shooting place north and east of Moose Jaw, in tens of thousands. My farmer tells me of seeing the crows rob the nests of the gallinules in the wheat stubble field when he was plowing. At any rate, mallards had become quite scarce and crowds had increased by leaps and bounds."

"This year we saw few crows. They had been thinned out. There were many mallards on the lake."

"I look upon the crow and the house cat as the two greatest bird destroyers. When we get better practical control of vermin we can expect better things for sportsmen."

tightly taped because of torn ligaments.

It is almost certain the Hoosiers will again be without the services of Randall, Harrell and Reinhardt.

Wallace Boxes Medill Tonight at Hippodrome

Joey Medill of the west side and Billy Wallace of Cleveland will top the card of fights at the Hippodrome tonight. They will box ten rounds to a decision at 135 pounds.

Medill generally is considered the best local lightweight since the days of Charley White. Joey has a snappy left hook similar to the one used by White. He also can punch with his right and is a fairly clever defensive fighter. It will be Medill's first local appearance in months and west side fans will be out in large numbers to cheer him tonight.

Wallace is both a fighter and a boxer. He has defeated Harry Kid Brown, Lou Paluso, Louis Kid Kaplan, Tommy Kid Murphy, Harry Wallace, Cuddy De Marco, Al Gordon and Tommy Herman. Medill has won from Mike Dundee, Tommy Grogan, Johnny Mellow, and Marty Silvers. Both fighters completed preparation yesterday with light gymnasium workouts and both are under the weight.

Ernie Peters and Young Denelo, local flyweights, will meet in the eight round semi-windup. The other fights will bring together Jack Monroe and Dave Thornton, heavyweights; Joe Kneers and Joe Young, 145 pounders; Teddy Witt and Louis Fratto, featherweights; Vic Merio and Lou Denny, 125 pounders, and Solly Schuman and Bobby Allen, local cantamweights.

PREP PLAYER DIES.

Charles V. Va., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Injured in a football game between the Charleston and Logan high schools here Saturday, Charles Dard died today in a hospital. The boy, a Logan high player, suffered two fractures of the skull column.

MEN WHO SMOKE AND GUARD THEIR HEALTH. SMOKE CIGARS

88% of the Principal Executives of the Radio Corporation of America are Cigar Smokers

La Palina is America's Largest Selling High Grade Cigar (OVER A MILLION A DAY) its outstanding popularity is the best proof of its unusual quality

As a result of a survey it has been ascertained that 88% of the principal executives of the Radio Corporation of America smoke cigars.

Men are cigar smokers because of the taste and enjoyment there is in the cigar—not for the gratification of a nervous habit. They smoke slowly, leisurely, getting from each puff a full measure of pleasure—without penalty to nerves or throat. One cigar is not lighted from the end of another. The day's end does not find the cigar smoker high-strung, with harried nerves, in an exhausted mental condition.

Cigar smokers are not forced to inhale the cigar to extract from it the rich flavor of its tobacco. Few inhale at all. Perhaps the basic reason for the great prevalence of throat troubles is the irritating action of hot tobacco smoke on the very sensitive membranes of the mouth and throat.

A prominent New York throat specialist is authority for the statement that:

"Cigar smoke is cool, because the tobacco burns slowly and the smoke is filtered and cooled as it is drawn through the cigar itself. Moreover, a cigar is made entirely of tobacco without the use of quick-burning substance for wrapper."

Make this test for a week—smoke cigars exclusively and you will find yourself feeling better, with no cough or throat irritation, improved nerves, increased vitality and less of that tired feeling.

To really test cigars with justice to yourself and to cigars, we suggest the test be made with La Palina. Since they are America's largest selling high grade cigar—over a million a day—you can smoke them, confident that they will please you.

The sensational success of La Palina results from an exclusive and secret blend which combines for the first time in one cigar an extreme mildness with a rare richness of both taste and fragrance.

*A MILD cigarette—genuinely mild—mild enough for anybody—yet it has real taste and character.

Chesterfield represents all the appealing qualities of the finest tobaccos, blended and cross-blended in a way entirely different from other cigarettes and with entirely different results. For, mild as Chesterfields certainly are, they do what you've always wanted a cigarette to do—they satisfy.

10,000 ATTEND CHARITY RACING AT BRADLEY FARM

Clyde Van Dusen Captures Orphanage Stakes.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Approximately 10,000 persons from all over Kentucky, its neighboring states and the east gathered on Col. Edward R. Bradley's Idle Hour farm this afternoon to enjoy an old-fashioned private race meeting, which was held in this part of the country a hundred years ago.

The private meeting was the latest and most original idea of Col. Bradley's and as a result of it a sum totaling near to $50,000 will be distributed to the orphan institutions in the state.

Crowd Bets $100,000.
It was by far the most cosmopolitan crowd ever to watch running races near this city. The program of six races, carried through in a fashion identical with the system followed on race courses everywhere, went off without a hitch.

Special pari-mutuel machines were erected within the track enclosure and they were liberally played, the total wagers amounting to approximately $100,000. Six and a half per cent of this sum was taken out and added to the orphan fund.

Five of the races today had a value of $10,000 each, while the other, called the Orphanage stakes, for 2 year olds, had an added value of $5,000. All of the purses were donated by Col. Bradley.

Clyde Van Dusen Wins.
Clyde Van Dusen, 2 year old chestnut gelding by Man o' War Uncle's Lassie, bred here in the blue grass country, won the Orphanage stakes with French Lass second and Pretty Pose third. Nine started.

The other winners were Sixty, Chat Black Nick, Calliope, Martinique, and Flynd, the latter winning by twenty lengths.
Gov. Flem D. Sampson, was among the guests and made a short address. Miss Peggie Bailey, niece of Col. Bradley, presented Herbert P. Gardner, owner of Clyde Van Dusen, with the trophy emblematic of victory in the Orphanage stakes.

PERHAPS CHANGE OF WORK MEANS REST FOR HOOVER

BY LEON STOLZ.

No satisfactory announcement has been made of the motive of Mr. Hoover's projected visit to Latin America. Of course he may be in search of rest and recreation after the campaign, but men who desire rest do not, as a rule, sign up for a formidable series of foreign office receptions, to say nothing of languid speeches.

Mr. Hoover may desire to undertake some diplomatic negotiations in person that, too, seems improbable for there are no outstanding difficulties of a political nature between any of the countries he is to visit and ours. The probability, then, is that Mr. Hoover is going to South America to look over its possibilities as a market for American goods and as a source of raw materials for American consumption.

Wants to See for Himself.

Mr. Hoover frequently has stressed the importance of our foreign trade in maintaining the American standard of living. We are dependent on raw materials from abroad for a long list of necessities. We are particularly dependent on tropical countries for rubber, coffee, vegetable oils and fruits.

Mr. Hoover will visit the countries which can be expected to supply us with vast quantities of these products, countries which are also likely to show rapidly increasing markets for our manufactured goods during his administration. He is eager to see this market with his own eyes, to appraise its possibilities. Engineers as a class have a weakness for looking over the ground of operations in person and Mr. Hoover appears to be no exception.

The struggle for foreign trade in the past few years is likely to become easier. The National Foreign Trade council has just reported substantial increases in the export trade of Europe, particularly of Germany. Of all the great nations of the world, ours has shown the most rapid advance in exports since the war, but the recovery in Europe is going to make it increasingly difficult for our exporters to hold their own, particularly as our exports are increasingly of manufactured goods.

Big Increase in Exports.

The third quarter of 1923 showed an expansion of exports totaling $41,000,000 over the third quarter a year ago. In the value of finished manufactures alone, the increase was $21,000,000, but this was compensated for in part by the losses in other classifications. Substantially half our foreign trade is now in finished manufactures. If our foreign trade is to continue to grow, it must be in this department and in the face of the competition of cheap labor in foreign lands. Mr. Hoover doubtless has that fact in mind as he is preparing to go abroad.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—COFFEE.—Futures were easier today under a little selling pressure, perhaps for European account. No. 7 contracts opened at a decline of 3/16 points and closed at a decline of 1/16 points. Santos contracts opened 5/16 points lower and closed at 5/16 points lower. Prices:

RAILROAD NOTES

The Alton and Southern railroad today has asked for permission to issue $1,000,000 of common stock. The issue is to be sold for cash at par to the Aluminum Company of America, holder of the road's stock.
Further financing by the Pennsylvania railroad, partly in the form of new stock offered to stockholders, may be expected next year, according to those in touch with the affairs of the company. By selling $50,000,000 of new stock to shareholders at par value and by issuing $50,000,000 debenture bonds the company has raised this year about $110,000,000. Since Jan. 1 the company has bought $81,597,000 worth of Lehigh Valley and Western stocks and retired or called $48,000,000 in bonds and equipment trust obligations.

Economic Reports

American Appraisals are frequently made to include economic reports setting forth not only the cost of reproduction and sound value of the physical property, but a complete survey of the business from every angle which will reveal the economic value of the enterprise as a whole.

BEST SUGAR CROP SHORT

In the best sugar crop in the United States as given by the government report, there is 6,914,000 short tons, against 7,753,000 tons last year and a five year average of 7,550,000 tons for the five year average.

Romania's best sugar production, as estimated by the department of agriculture, is 1,055,000 short tons against 1,204,000 tons last year, a loss of 12.6 per cent.

AS TRUSTEE UNDER YOUR WILL

Chicago Title & Trust Company Offers

1. PERMANENCE

As a corporation it has continuous existence, does not die, get sick or take a vacation.

2. EXPERIENCE

As one of the first trust companies incorporated under the General Trust Act of the State of Illinois it has been administering trusts for over 40 years.

3. FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

It has assets in excess of $33,000,000. It does not accept deposits and has no demand liabilities.

4. UNBIASED INVESTMENT JUDGMENT

It has never had a bond department, due to the company's policy and firm conviction that as trustee it should not be placed in the position of a buyer and seller of securities at the same time.

5. TANGIBLE PROTECTION AGAINST LOSS

It has established a $2,000,000 Special Reserve Fund for the protection against loss of principal and interest on interest bearing investments purchased by it. In other words, before any beneficiaries under its trusts can lose a cent of interest or principal on interest bearing investments selected by it the company must lose $2,000,000 of its own money.

A Progressive Bank Where Friendliness Prevails

THE public has a wide choice when selecting a bank. Many institutions are well equipped to handle any transaction, but beyond the mere routine of banking there are other important considerations. The right banking connection becomes a constructive factor in the upbuilding of commercial or industrial concerns. It is a foundation stone in the structure of every successful business.

The steady growth of this bank is the result of a satisfied clientele. It is possible to establish close relationships with executive officers and there is more friendliness and less formality than is usual. You are invited to use the complete service of this old, progressive bank.

WHEAT CLOSES LOWER IN MART AT LIVERPOOL

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liverpool was the only grain market open yesterday. It had a weak tone and at one time was $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ pence lower on wheat. The close was $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ pence lower for the day. Winnipeg was closed, owing to the Canadian Thanksgiving holiday, and there was very little news.

The grain traders are awaiting the Canadian crop report, due this afternoon. They expect it to show some reduction from previous estimates. A private estimate gives western Canada 547,000,000 bu. and all of Canada 570,000,000 bu. Expectations of a reduction are based on poor quality and low grading of the crop particularly in Saskatchewan and Alberta. The provincial report of the latter province made its production 130,000,000 bu.

World's Wheat Crop.

A government report on the world's production, given out at Washington, representing 55 countries, with nearly 50 per cent of the world's output, estimates 2,417,225,000 bu. against 2,153,842,000 bu. last year, an increase of 263,383,000 bu. These figures include an estimate of 168,000,000 bu. for Australia.

Farmers' deliveries of wheat in western Canada from Aug. 1 to Nov. 6, aggregate 236,000,000 bu. against 173,000,000 bu. last year. Exports from Canada from July 1 to Sept. 30 aggregate 56,092,000 bu. against 40,560,000 bu. last year. United States exports from July 1 to Oct. 27, as given by the department of agriculture were 65,585,000 bu. of wheat and flour, against 112,413,000 bu. for the same time last year.

Features of Corn Crop.

In an analysis of the corn crop, the 2,355,000,000 bushels was one-fourth of 1 per cent below the October forecast. Slight increases in the southern states were more than offset by decreases in Iowa, Missouri, and Minnesota.

In the eleven big corn states from Ohio to Texas, there are 2,140,000,000 bu. compared with 2,167,000,000 bu. in October, and 2,290,000,000 bu. as the final report in 1927. The five year average is 2,288,000,000 bu. 201,000,000 bu. less than this year's estimate to date.

Corn picking in central Illinois has been delayed so much by soft weather this fall that Thanksgiving will likely arrive before this job is finished, says H. I. Baldwin of Decatur, Ill. "Probably a scant one-half of the Illinois corn is now out of the fields. This delay in harvesting is causing some uneasiness regarding the ability of growers for November 15 shipments to get their contracts filled on time. Government statistics show 11,000 corn picking machines now on Illinois farms."

Chicagoans Protest Cut of St. Louis Rail Rates

Protesting against the new cut in rates announced by the Missouri Pacific railroad to apply on transportation of merchandise loaded in steel container cars between St. Louis and western and southwestern points, effective Nov. 21, the Chicago Association of Commerce has filed a petition with the interstate commerce commission. The Chicagoans ask a suspension of the proposed schedule and an investigation into the possible discriminatory effects against shipments from Chicago and northern points to the same destination.

In presenting its case, the Association announces itself not only as the spokesman for its 7,500 members but also for 4,000 Chicago manufacturers and shippers now dealing with the Southwest who may find themselves seriously handicapped in competition with St. Louis concerns, if the new rates are put into effect.

U.S. CONTROL OF CHILEAN PUBLIC UTILITIES LOOMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 12.—Early American control of Chilean public utilities is seen here in the recent purchases and amalgamations of Chilean light, power, and traction companies by American capital. The most recent acquisition is that of the Chile Electric company, Ltd., of Santiago and the Valparaiso Light, Power and Traction company by the Electric Bond and Share company of New York.

Controlling interest in these two companies was purchased from the Whitehall Electric Securities, Ltd., of Great Britain, and gives the American company control of the light, power, and traction lines of Valparaiso, Vina del Mar, Santiago, and neighboring cities. The transaction was said to involve $135,000,000. Other deals in Chilean public utilities by American capital this year were the outright purchase of the Chile Telephone company, Ltd., by the International Telephone and Telegraph company; purchase of majority control of the Valdivia Coal and Power company by the Electric Bond and Share company.

GREAT BRITAIN'S OCTOBER TRADE BALANCE BETTER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] LONDON, Nov. 12.—Great Britain's trade balance sheet is improving. The latest figure of the board of trade, issued tonight, shows that both import and export totals for October were the highest since March. The imports were valued at $102,645,301 (about $112,226,505), an increase of $14,863,477 (about $14,812,188) over the September figures. The exports were valued at $84,812,585 (about $221,543,180), an increase of $1,682,664 (about $1,482,120) over September. Coal exports show an increase of considerably over $500,000 (about $2,500,000) against September's figures.

What Questions Do YOU Want Answered Before You Buy Securities?

It is easy to buy stocks on "tips" and rumors—but such a policy is seldom profitable in the long run.
Before you act on the advice of some good friend of yours, there are certain questions which you should have answered.
It is important that you first find out all you can about the business or corporation.
This Information is Yours for the Asking
Through "STANDARD" Service, which your Banker or Broker subscribes to for YOUR benefit as well as his own, it is now entirely possible for you to tell if a corporation is going forward or backward—if its growth is healthy or unsound—if it promises well for the future—and the names of the men who are responsible for its management.
If "STANDARD" Service presented nothing more than the mere facts and figures found in a comparison of annual statements, it would still have the superior merit of being always up-to-date. But it goes much further than that!
"STANDARD" Service gives you detailed analyses of earnings. It shows you the source from which the earnings were derived—how income was distributed—whether or not the corporation is prepared to meet a sudden money stringency—and hundreds of other facts of keenest personal interest to YOU as an investor.
Leading Bankers and Brokers everywhere depend on "STANDARD" Service for the vital facts concerning the thousands of securities on the market today.
Your Banker or Broker knows that he can get from it ALL the facts available, much more quickly and accurately than from any other source.

Principles of good business —

THERE'S a sound and simple formula that has never failed.

It creates spectacular success by unspectacular methods. It supplies the sap for steady, consistent growth, without artificial stimulants.

Straight thinking... sincere effort... good taste.

This is the formula. It is the formula of every great American industry. It is the formula of Collier's.

On the one hand, Collier's draws readers who appreciate this kind of thinking, this kind of taste. On the other hand, it draws advertisers who are developing their businesses along the same sound lines.

This is why Collier's has become the meeting place where shrewd advertisers display their wares to more than 1,750,000 responsive families... why more than 718,000 new circulation has come to Collier's in less than three and a half years... why in the past twelve months Collier's circulation has increased by more than 243,000... why Collier's is the only large weekly to make an advertising gain this year.

THE CROWELL PUBLISHING COMPANY

Collier's

COLLIER'S present rates are based on a circulation of 1,550,000. The circulation is more than 1,750,000 now. Advertisers placing orders before November 24th in Collier's for 1929 are assured of an excess circulation of more than 200,000 an issue.

Since that morning of Aug. 3, he said he has been having a regular vacation and that he now was fixed up as good as new. Stone earlier in the day stated that he would leave the hospital on Thursday and go to his home at Forest Hills, N. Y., in a special ambulance.

The actor spoke over a nation-wide hookup of stations after first listening to his daughter, Dorothy, tell him from her dressing room in a New York theater to "come on and don't forget your lines." She sang for him over the radio three songs hits from the musical comedy "The Band Wagon," which she is starred and is playing. Will Rogers, humorist, is pinch hitting for Stone.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—Special.—The debutantes of this season met tonight for the first time at a subscription ball at the Willard.

Ex-Judge and Mrs. Clarence N. Goodwin of Chicago, who are at the Carlton for a few days, gave an informal dinner there tonight at the Carlton, with Mr. Justice and Mrs. Stone as guests of honor. The Goodwins had at luncheon with them today, also informally, the Swiss minister and Mrs. Peter, the Finnish minister, Mr. Astrom, and the Irish minister, Timothy T. Smiddy.

Mrs. Bryan Lathrop of Chicago has arrived at the Mayflower, and will be here for some time in order to sell her B. street home.

Senator and Mrs. James Couzens of Detroit have arrived in their Washington home for the season, where their younger daughters, Misses Margo and Betty, have been since school opened.

Paraffining Jellies.

I have heard a good deal about paraffining troubles this year and have seen a new sort of sending away for some tropical jellies. Some of these were up in the charming new little glass containers like cans—some have aluminum tops—and because the tops had been pushed over them while the paraffin was hot, it has been hard to get them off. It is also hard to get off the covers of the plain common jelly glasses when the covers are put on over hot paraffin high enough to touch them and set touching them.

As so many hundreds of glasses of jelly are used as gifts every year, and the paraffin which we can make before Christmas comes, I think this is an important point. And there is another point in this connection. In filling the can and individual glasses with jelly, pouring it in hot, care should always be taken to fill in the jelly till it comes above the shoulders of the glass.

Two layers of paraffin and this can be used as a guide in the filling of those who spend their time in making jellies. If you have had trouble with paraffin covers perhaps you should remember this. But the using of glass while the paraffin is hot helps in the making of a perfect cover, though my own remedy is to pour the jelly so carefully that it will set up and so leave what may be called a dirty bit on the glass to the paraffin from a tight fit.

Show Opening for Illinois Children's Aid

BY THALIA

Whatever the women's board of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society chooses to make its annual benefit, as a matter of course, be one of the most important events of the winter.

The nature of this year's benefit is to be settled and plans for it are to be made at a tea meeting at Mrs. Walter Burden's residence, 1020 Lake street drive, this afternoon. The benefit always makes its affair an enormous success, socially as well as financially speaking. Last year it was the opening of the Arlington race track, year before it was the horse show, and one year it was the famous ball at the Coliseum.

I learned unofficially, but on good authority, that this year's benefit is to be the taking over of the opening of the aviation show at the Coliseum the second week in December, and that a ball is to be given in connection with the opening. It is planned to have Col. Charles Lindbergh present, and the famous Lindbergh hospital and tent for the exhibit by Mrs. Mason Bros.

And speaking of the Arts club, it was the scene of a colorful costume party on Sunday night. The John Allen Carpenters, finding their party too small for their "showboat party" for Bertha Palmer, transferred it almost at the last minute to the club. The galleries were hung with a textile arrangement of striped silk, and the forty odd guests, dressed in gowns suggested by the costume of the musical comedy in New York, sat on long green cushions to partake of supper from rose colored kindergarten tables and to view the show-boat entertainment. There was a sprinkling of the so-called older people, but most of the group was composed of debutantes.

Mrs. Palmer was in a lovely ruffled gown of white, and Mrs. Carpenters wore a quaint little rose colored velvet jacket and an amazing little old fashioned hat. Miss Ellen Borden in white, with a white wig, is reported to have been one of the prettiest. Mrs. Carpenters' party, Robert H. Alton, and John R. Waterhouse were among those of the post-debutante age who were present.

Society at the Opera

Society attested to Miss Marion Cair's growing popularity by filling the box circle for her performance last night of Desdemona in the opera "Otello" at the Auditorium, and by arriving comparatively early, that is, before the end of the first act.

With Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Martin Shaw were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Howard. Guests of Mrs. Coleman J. Wentworth were her sons, John and Hunt Wentworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meek.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Lamont were accompanied by the box that the Meekers and the Lamonts share for Monday nights, with Miss Helen Gilbert and Russell L. Avery as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hinde were hosts to Mrs. James R. Walker, who recently came on from Stockholm, Miss. Mrs. Tracy Drake and the latter's son, Carlos Drake of Paris, France, were Mrs. William S. Monro's guests. Mrs. Polly Root Collier, Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh, and Henry Monro.

The John P. Wilsons had with them Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Scott, Miss Elizabeth Preston, and Kenneth Myer. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eitelson's guests were Mrs. Fred Levy of Louisville, Ky.; Melville L. Emerich, Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Strauss, and Mrs. Laura Glaser.

WEDDINGS

The wedding of Miss Gertrude Lea Peering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lea Peering of Greenwich, Conn., formerly of Highland Park, to Carol Lytle of New York City, son of Joseph Lytle of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., took place yesterday at St. Bartholomew's chapel in New York City. It was followed by a reception at the residence of the bride's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Stetson, of 111 East 72d street, N. Y. Miss Lola Peering was maid of honor for her sister and Miss Katherine Peering was flower girl. Raymond Reiss was best man and Lloyd Powell, Lamar Peering, Hugo Campagnoli and Munroe Peering ushered. The wedding and reception lists were limited to relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. Following their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Lytle are to reside at 193 East 75th street, New York City.

Let Him Play with His Doll; It Won't Make Him a "Sissy"

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Although I know many mothers meet with this situation, this is the first letter I have received about it. "My dear Mrs. Bevans: I am a reader of your interesting column and enjoy it very much. I have a little problem I would like to ask you to pass an opinion on: 'I have a little boy 23 months old who is very bright and has a splendid vocabulary. He plays with all sorts of toys, a bicycle, a doll buggy, several dolls, iron automobiles, blocks, picture books, etc. The other day he informed me he was going to call up doll. The next day he was presented with a doll by his grandmother, and he just was so happy about it. 'When he goes out for a walk he takes out this doll buggy and wants his doll in it. His father would not allow him to have the doll, as he said he had one doll and didn't want him to play with them. I told his father I did not think it mattered if he did play with the doll or used the doll buggy. 'Now, do you think this little boy might grow up to be a sissy if he is allowed to play with the doll? He also plays with his other toys just like any other little boy. I told the baby that Santa took the doll, but would return it later on and he said, 'All right, mother, I won't worry.' Please let me know your opinion. My husband said he would abide by your decision. I have asked a number of women physicians who have children of their own, and their little boys played with dolls, but discarded them when they started to school. 'My little boy seldom plays with other children, only with the girl who takes care of him. She is 17 years old.'"

Many little boys love dolls. Many little boys play with dolls. And many a little boy who loves to play with a doll is also playing with his other toys just like any other little boy. I told the baby that Santa took the doll, but would return it later on and he said, 'All right, mother, I won't worry.' Please let me know your opinion. PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

A slender effect is achieved by using the hip yoke in a pointed line to correspond with the deep point of the bodice and placing the circular flare low. The surprise closing vestee and attractively shaped collar are style details. This design is a boon to the large woman, for it is smart, youthful and slenderizing. Flat silk crepe, crepe satin, cashmere woven with metal threads. Canton flannel crepe, wool crepe, and crepe Elizabeth are fashionable materials for practical wear.

The pattern, No. 3471, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 34, 36, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 2 1/2 yards of 40 inch material with 1/4 yard of 32 inch white material and 1 1/4 yards of black.

Magnetism Plus Vitality Equals Sure-Fire Charm

Of the beaten path a little bit from beauty, as we battle for it in calories and rouge tints, color effects and dental hygiene, yesterday we talked about a current tendency to incorporate the word "vital" in summarizing a girl's assets.

To continue a bit further, or perhaps simply to take up the quality by another thread, there's the word "magnetic." There's really small difference, if any, in the forces that go to describe the vital one and the magnetic one. A vital person might, perhaps, be a slightly aggressive creature, whereas the magnetic one could be that one who, the latter, would have to have the spirit and the healthy body for vitality but she would always have the softening influence that charm. Not understand, that a vital girl isn't as much right to be a charmer, I simply say by the sheer force of her vitality she could be a steam roller, so to speak; mow down everything that got in her way, if you know what I mean. What, of course, you do for you know girls who are surcharged with energy that they do not keep sufficiently in control to spare the feelings of others.

The eye is said to hold the power of magnetism. It is the person who with eyes so penetrating in their gaze you suffer a peculiar sensation. There are eyes so cold and steady in their glance that they repel or chill.

Castro was said to have an eye "so penetrating that one was tempted to call it supernatural. It was a mixture of ice and flame. It attracted, repelled, inspired and terrified yet caused innumerable curiosities."

That kind of eye, don't recommend as a model—for alluring women, anyway. There's magnetism in the soft, appealing, alluring eye. There's magnetism in an eye that's fixed on you with a genuine interest. There's no magnetism in the eye that speaks a wondering mind, a frivolous mind, a deceitful or a cunning one.

After thinking it over, couldn't you characterize magnetism as a quality of mind and vitality as a quality of the body? And the combination found in one person quite devastatingly charming!

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

V. M. THE FACE SHOULD BE washed once a day with soap and water. Any good toilet soap may be used. Such a soap should lather well. The cleansing property of the soap depends upon the lather. It should be made of clean fats from which the excessive alkali has been removed.

Blouses Attain a New Perfection

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondent.)—Reverend the waistland, this has been the self-proclaimed task of many famous couturiers throughout the last few seasons. Vionnet, Patou, Lanvin—these and various others of the world's most celebrated designers have applied to the problem of the separate blouse almost as much talent and energy as they have given to the complete frock. As a result, blouses have attained a new perfection, and we find a range of styles never before encountered.

And what a benign model it is—this fashion of making one satin or velvet or crepe skirt the foundation of a number of costumes! With such a skirt as a nucleus and with three or four different types of blouse or after-nooners may, indeed, look absolutely different from each other.

In today's sketches we find at the left a beautiful afternoon blouse designed by Vionnet. This is made of white and gold brocade, and features a surplus collar of white satin. The fact that the blouse is made of brocade is adjusted by a pin given a becoming softness of effect, and joins with the individual arrangement of the fitted slip line to endow this model with great distinction. Buttons covered in the blouse fabric supply the first touch. This model will look its best with a black velvet skirt.

The tightly molded hip line with the blouse effect above, which is so characteristic of the season's gown, is widely observed in the province of the separate blouse, and in our right hand model of magenta silk we again are confronted by this mode. Shifting, that modish touch of handwork, individualizing grille, sleeves and shoulders, and the new line is adjusted by a tiny cord of sequin material.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Dressed in a Hurry.

During the dreary hot weather last summer I was invited to a card party at the home of a friend whom I had just recently met.

I was then when I came from work, and nearly sick from the heat. I hastily dressed. In the middle of a card game I put my hand to my neck, only to find there was no tie there. In my haste I had forgotten to put it on.

And the rest of the evening was as long an embarrassing moment for me as C. E. G.
